Notes and Comments:

Good start to the lesson in providing a quick recap knowledge and perceptions as well as provide a warning of context.
You project yourself well although a more structured introduction to outline your aims and objectives would have been helpful.
You dealt with question well and made the class as the limits of your expertise with very good.
Good circulation around groups during activity and you encourage the learners very well.
I like the way you included advice with a more structured conclusion would be useful but this about how you will manage the learning in class.

TARGETS FOR IMPROVEMENT

- Consider cross-cutting advancement themes within your planning.
- Try to monitor time given to groups for tasks, have they had long enough to fully discuss what they need to?
- Create opportunities for comments in revision.
