

MARKING CRITERIA and STUDENT FEEDBACK

This section details the assessment criteria. The extent to which these are demonstrated by you determines your mark. The marks available for each criterion are shown. Lecturers will use the space provided to comment on the achievement of the task(s), including those areas in which you have performed well and areas that would benefit from development/improvement.

Common Assessment Criteria Applied	Marks Available	Marks Awarded
1. Engagement with Literature Skills
There is some argument that you have not read/understood the needs of this coursework brief. This is about you and the ability to provide adequate research and to learn how to research/reference correctly. You have provided some evidence of referencing within assignments - what should have been produced relevant screen dumps to backup what is being discussed	20	4
2. Knowledge and Understanding Skills
Some credit should be given in relation to what industry needs there are for are S/W developer. Again, read the coursework brief - is this important to this assignment	20	6
3. Cognitive and Intellectual Skills
Very little to discuss - there is minimal relevant information presented here - back to the problem of not reading the brief properly	20	3
4. Practical Application Skills
Dumping all coursework/assignments have no purpose here - this is about demonstration of skills (as per brief) - with supporting evidence - no excuse - or simply the case of getting guidance/clarification from when the coursework brief was issued	30	2
5. Transferable Skills for Life and Professional Practice
Generally, not a bad attempt in presenting your work. However, if you observed what was taught in lectures regarding presentation of work - you should have a better/more presentable report (experience does hold) and considering you have submitted a large number of assignments - you are reasonably experienced	20	5
