About Me

Hello,

My name is Megan Holborn I am a 23 year old performer based in South Wales. I have garnered experience in the professional realm as an actor, singer, dancer, host, DJ and animator. My current aspiration is to impart my passion for the performing arts by eventually transitioning into the role of a Drama lecturer. I am to cultivate fervor on young individuals, guiding them on their creative journey.

My Story

So, at the ripe old age of just 5 years old, I kicked off my journey in Musical Theatre with my Amateur Dramatics group 'The CAST' where I played several lead roles in shows including Oliver!, Wizard Of Oz and Annie. I then at the age of 13 decided to keep the fire burning by selecting Music and Drama for two of my GCSE subjects, After school I then took it up a notch with my Extended Diploma in Musical Theatre at college, my experience within education at college slightly detoured me from education so I decided a gap year would be best for me. This is then when I decided to audition for Butlins Minehead where I spent 3 fantastic years as a performer would be best for me. This is then when I decided to audition for Butlins Minehead where I spent 3 fantastic years as a performer with many well known company's such as Mr. Maker and The Teletubbies I also gained experience in the industry as an entertainment host which helped to develop my presentation skills along with refining my interpersonal skills. After my 3 adventurous years at Butlins I decided it was University time so I began my studies on the BA Hons Musical theatre degree at WAVDA in Cardiff being in the atmosphere of young inspirational performers the Drama bug really bit me hard , leading me to set my sights on my next project and goal which is to become a Drama lecturer, Come September I will be diving down deep into my PGCE course to make that dream a reality passing on my passion and love for the arts to young impressionable performers of the future,

I gave the idea for using cast headshots and allowing the viewers to have a chance at guessing what song we as individuals are singing. Jona then actioned this.

My second idea that hasn't come into fruition yet is that we do an ensemble video titled 'guess who's singing'.
