

Just a very short presentation for inspiration.

Scale (size)

Matisse working with a stick on a huge scale. Working in this way can be very freeing.

Julie Mehreta working large scale

Street art, large scale

There are many street artists, Banksy is well known. The use of spray paint is yet another medium. Bird artist Brazil by L7m

Fun optical 3d illusions street art

by Edgar Muller and Manfred Stader. Very clever work executed in chinks and pastels.

Large scale charcoal drawings

Working large encourages you to think about your line and expression. Left to right Fiona Tang
Jan Hendrix

Newton woods by Richard Rochester

Charcoal and conte, size 9ft by 4ft on three separate panels. We will look at tone in a later session, it is the scale of the work which is impressive.

Jeffery Camp worked on many odd formats

Round, octagonal, any shape he wished to use. He would make his canvases the shape he wanted.

Reportage artist working on a long concertina format

The paper is folded and can be stretched out flat. Jill gibbon

Working on a scroll format

Harry Morgan

Tim Vyner uses a moving image on his iPad.

Mount Athos project. Watch his video. A drawing shown as a scrolling moving image. The second link shows him working in his studio.

<https://vimeo.com/145853882>

<https://vimeo.com/163529360>

