

What I have enjoyed since joining WAVDA

Since joining WAVDA one thing that I have found enjoyable has been learning tap. As I have come from have very little tap experience this was one of the things that I was most anxious about as I was worried that I may struggle with it. However, tap has become one of my favorite lessons to go to. As soon as I had the first lesson, I felt a lot more comfortable with it than I thought I was, and I feel as if I can pick up steps a lot faster than I had previously thought I would be able to. Learning a new style although it can be challenging so I have made sure to put time outside of Uni to help with picking it up and this has really helped. As well the tap teacher has been very helpful and has been very crucial to me getting the hang of it as she teaches it very well. Although some of the steps can be a struggle to get my head around when I first learn it once I spend time working on it I have been able to learn a whole variation of new steps. Although the current aim of the lessons has been to be to learn the steps there has been time put into a routine in which I have really enjoyed putting the steps together and putting them to music. Overall, my previous feelings towards tap have completely transformed and have all made me very excited to learn this style of dance and progress with different steps.
