S-strength

- When it comes to my own professional development my strength are that I am great at problems solving on my own and have good organisation skill, it may seem sometimes that that I haven't got any of my work to together but I always work best on a deadline.m and get what I need to on time.
- Another strength is that I can remain calm under pressure and think with a cool temple and mindset.

W-weakness

- My weakness is that I am not the best communicator as I prefer to listen to others in the team then to project my own thoughts. I am able to work in a group, but my inputs are always the minimum that they need to be.
- Another weakness is my procrastination as I try to get things done quickly but mostly Wait until the very last minute which can be stressful

O-opportunity

- My problem solving skills are very useful and can help a-lot of people think out side of the box and find solution that is not obvious, it allows lots of opportunities as this is not a skills that is widely available.
- I have a-lot of room to grow and expand which will allow me lots of opportunities to grow and self improves

T- Threat

- Threats for me can be spacing out in a teams setting as I have slower processing speed and this may lead to me not understanding what is going on or what I have to do.
- Another threat can be my peers and team members, as I can be overshadowed easily. This can be they are much more vocal and ambitious.

A way that I can leverage, my strength to overcome my weakness is I can use my problem-solving skills to find better ways to improve my communication skills and eliminate the threat of being overlooked and shadowed by my peers.

Another way that I can use my strength to improve my weakness is that I can use my organisational skills to improve my weakness, which is lack of communication. I can use my organisational skills to keep in the loop with everyone and communicate well with them so my peers know what is happening and I also eliminate the threat of not being in the know from the lack of my processing skill.
