mini HACKATHON 2022

The London Campus of the Institute of Inner City Learning and School of Applied Computing are joining hands, supporting women and girls addressing their safety on streets. We are opening this problem and placing it on the desk of fresh and energetic minds as a challenge.

The participants (as a Team) may propose (not limited to) effective, simple and easy-to-use tools/systems/applications focusing to overcome the above stated problem. The proposal must consider user-friendly interface, usability, accessibility etc to achieve a solution to make society safer for women with the use of emerging trends and technology.
