

1. What ? The purpose of reflection it's the reflect on my first day working as a primary school teacher in Turkey. First day i remember feeling a little bit nervous and i was feeling quite hot as a result at the same time. I also felt excited cos it was my first day experience as a qualify teacher. AS the day went on i start feeling more confident cos i became more familiar with students.it made really cos this right professional for me and i had positive feedback from students and if you ask me wat was the challenging about that day? One of the challenges that day i didn't cover anything i planned for that day. For example, some of the students were singing and giving smiling
2. SO WHAT ? i learned from this experience the way in which i treated students can make different too how to they perceive education. How i react impact how they react. I learned that i can be really good teacher . How this impact to my professional carrier development? it gives me more communication skills, more confident and help me understand their needs.
3. NOW WHAT? If i wants do this again i would organise my time more effectively for example i could create lesson plan i would follow the lesson plan and i make sure i use my time efficiently.
