CYFLWYNIAD

Mae'r Cyfeiriadur Modylau hwn yn cynnwys yr holl fodylau ar gyfer Lefel 4 o fewn Disgyblaeth Academaidd Diwydiannau Dylunio a Pherfformio ym mlwyddyn academaidd 2025-2026.

Mae'r cyfeiriadur hwn yn mynd gyda'r Llawlyfr Rhaglen Astudio, a fydd yn rhoi manylion y modylau y byddwch yn eu hastudio ar gyfer eich rhaglen eleni yn yr adran 'Rhaglen Astudio'. Gall y cyfeiriadur hwn gynnwys modylau sy'n rhedeg ar raglenni astudio eraill o fewn eich Disgyblaeth Academaidd/Athrofa. Os oes angen cymorth arnoch i adnabod modylau eich rhaglen astudio, cysylltwch â'r Rheolwr Rhaglen (y mae ei enw a'i fanylion cyswllt wedi'u rhoi yn y Llawlyfr Rhaglen Astudio sy'n mynd gyda'r ddogfen hon), neu Swyddfa'r Athrofa berthnasol.

Mae'r Brifysgol wedi gwneud pob ymdrech i sicrhau bod y wybodaeth mor lawn a chywir â phosibl, ond dylech nodi ei bod yn anochel y bydd rhai mân newidiadau yn digwydd i drefniadaeth y modylau rhwng y cyfnod cynllunio ac amser addysgu'r modylau. Byddwn yn ceisio sicrhau y bydd cyn lleied o newidiadau â phosibl, ac fe gewch ddigon o rybudd o flaen llaw os bydd unrhyw newid. Byddem hefyd yn ddiolchgar pe baech yn rhoi gwybod i ni am unrhyw newidiadau defnyddiol y gallem eu gwneud i'r llawlyfr yn y dyfodol.

Module Code	ACHA4004
Title	Vehicle Technology
Date	12/07/2024
Level	4
Credits	20
Pre-Requisites	None

AIM(S)

- To allow the student to acquire knowledge of a range of Automotive powertrain, suspension, control and chassis systems through lectures and practical investigations

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Show a detailed knowledge and understanding of the underlying principles of engine and vehicle technologies and practices for analysis of powertrain and chassis systems in automotive applications
- demonstrate subject specific practical and cognitive skills applied to an automotive problem, obtaining and interpreting data in a laboratory environment and drawing relevant conclusions

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- Tyre construction and performance
- Tyre slip angles
- Car suspension systems design parameters, geometries and performance characteristics
- Vehicle suspension as a kinematic system
- Load transfer under longitudinal and lateral acceleration
- Steering & Braking systems
- Basic aerodynamic principles
- Engine design features
- Engine types and operation
- Cylinder head flow characteristics
- Dynamometer testing
- Measurement of vehicle suspension systems
- Transmission specification using numerical techniques

- Chassis design features
- Chassis construction techniques
- Manufacturing techniques

Study Time Allocation

The study time for the module is divided as follows:

AIM(S)

- To introduce the student to the fundamental techniques and industrial design practice of computer aided three-dimensional modelling and two-dimensional concept visualisation using industry standard software..

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Understand ergonomic & anthropometric principles and their relationship to the vehicle design process.
- Execute design projects using an appropriate blend of creative and systematic methods to determine the volume & form of vehicles.

AIM(S)

- To develop student's awareness and appreciation of contemporary challenges relevant to the discipline facing individuals, organisations, communities and society, from a local, national and global perspective.
- To develop creative problem-solvers through the application of knowledge to real-world problems.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Identify and evaluate historical and contemporary issues and their impact on today's global society.
- Apply appropriate collaborative working practices to manage conflict and support effective decision making.
- Implement Design Thinking techniques to investigate problems in order to generate and evaluate solutions.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- Visions of the Future including digital transformation 4.0.
- How history, legislation and policy shape the world we live.
- Contemporary global issues, e.g., responsible stewardship, diversity, inclusion, ethics, culture and intercultural awareness.
- 'Wicked problems': the challenge of difficult or impossible problems where the affecting variables are not known or quantifiable.
- Design Thinking to investigate, define, propose and evaluate problem solutions.
- Recognising and overcoming cognitive bias.
- Decision making frameworks and techniques.
- Recognising individual differences and the role of emotional intelligence in the management of conflict.
- The role of diplomacy, persuasion and negotiation in effective collaboration.
- The significance of interdisciplinary thinking in finding effective solutions to problems.
- The role of ethics in identifying solutions.
- Collective decision-making.
- The power of raising awareness

AIM(S)

- To develop the student's skills for independent study and life-long learning, which will form the foundations for successful completion of their degree programme and support future employment opportunities.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Demonstrate the foundational skills required to be a resilient and healthy independent learner.
- Practise the principles of learning agility
- Use suitable technology to support and enhance their learning experience within the discipline area

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- Time management, reading, writing, referencing and plagiarism, searching for and evaluating sources of information, working online.
- Critical thinking: issues concerning knowledge, belief, and doubt.
- Critical writing: synthesis, paraphrasing and creating an informed argument, avoiding plagiarism.
- Reflection and self-reflection.
- Identity and sense of place; including values, culture and intercultural awareness, heritage, diversity and inclusion and, multilingualism.

AIM(S)

- To introduce students to creative design craft processes to encourage and develop visual and intellectual explorations and responses to a range of media and disciplines.
- To enable the student to develop observational and practical skills, cultivate perceptual inquisitiveness and build a sustained sense of visual language in making.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Demonstrate the ability to research, record and evaluate visual, spatial and perceptual information and evidence the generation of ideas independently and / or collaboratively in response to a set brief or activity.
- Demonstrate the ability to select and apply a range of materials, techniques and processes and to reflect upon their effectiveness and environmental impact.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- Apply drawing as research
- Drawing with materials and mixed media
- Design and making methods
- Concept development
- Design development
- Research and analysis of contextual application
- Selection of appropriate materials and techniques
- Presentation skills.
- Evaluation of environmental impact

LEARNING AND TEACHING STRATEGY

This module introduces students to the fundamentals of drawing, visual communication and design methods. Through structured tasks, students will learn different ways of visually communicating their research, ideas and design developments. Within these exercises students will be introduced to a range of materials and techniques appropriate to design crafts and will be encouraged to work both two dimensionally and three dimensionally.

Through a series of workshop demonstrations, lectures and seminar groups as well as individual tutorials, the students gain knowledge and confidence in a range of approaches to designing and making. Students will be encouraged to reflect upon and evaluate the impact of their activities.

AMCAN(ION)

- Cyflwyno myfyrwyr i brosesau crefftau dylunio creadigol er mwyn annog a datblygu archwiliadau ac ymatebion gweledol a deallusol i ystod o gyfryngau a disgyblaethau.
- Galluogi'r myfyriwr i ddatblygu sgiliau arsylwi ac ymarferol, meithrin chwilfrydedd canfyddiadol ac adeiladu ymdeimlad parhaus o iaith weledol wrth wneud.

DEILLIANNAU DYSGU

Ar ôl cwblhau'r modwl hwn yn llwyddiannus, dylai'r myfyriwr allu:

- Dangos y gallu i ymchwilio, cofnodi a gwerthuso gwybodaeth weledol, ofodol a chanfyddiadol a rhoi tystiolaeth o gynhyrchu syniadau'n annibynnol a / neu yn gydweithredol mewn ymateb i friff neu weithgaredd penodol.
- Dangos y gallu i ddewis a chymhwyso ystod o ddeunyddiau, technegau a phrosesau ac i adfyfrio ar eu heffeithiolrwydd a'u heffaith amgylcheddol.

CYNNWYS DANGOSOL

- Cymhwyso lluniadu fel ymchwil
- Lluniadu gyda deunyddiau a chyfryngau cymysg
- Dulliau dylunio a gwneud
- Datblygu cysyniadau
- Datblygu dylunio
- Ymchwilio a dadansoddi cymhwysiad cyd-destunol
- Dewis deunyddiau a thechnegau priodol
- Sgiliau cyflwyno
- Gwerthuso effaith amgylcheddol

STRATEGAETH DYSGU AC ADDYSGU

Mae'r modwl hwn yn cyflwyno myfyrwyr i hanfodion lluniadu, cyfathrebu gweledol a dulliau dylunio. Trwy dasgau strwythuredig, bydd myfyrwyr yn dysgu gwahanol ffyrdd o gyfleu eu hymchwil, eu syniadau a'u datblygiadau dylunio'n weledol. O fewn yr ymarferion hyn cyflwynir myfyrwyr i ystod o ddeunyddiau a thechnegau sy'n briodol i grefftau dylunio ac fe'u hanogir i weithio mewn dau ddimensiwn a thri dimensiwn.

Drwy gyfres o arddangosiadau gweithdy, darlithoedd a grwpiau seminar yn ogystal â thiworialau unigol, bydd y myfyrwyr yn ennill gwybodaeth a hyder mewn ystod o ddulliau o ran dylunio a gwneud. Anogir myfyrwyr i werthuso ac adfyfrio ar effaith eu gweithgareddau.

AIM(S)

- To introduce the student to the product design research and development process through investigative, intellectual and practical application;

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Select appropriate research methods and implement them within the context of a design project;
- Independently manage and execute design projects using an appropriate blend of creative and innovative thinking;

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- Research methods for product design;
- Idea generation and problem solving techniques;
- Creative toolkits for innovative, analytical and systematic thinking;
- Ergonomics and anthropometrics simulation exercises;
- Product teardown;

AIM(S)

- To develop student's skills for independent study and life-long learning, which will form the foundations for successful completion of their degree programme and support future employment opportunities.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Demonstrate the foundational skills required to be a resilient and healthy independent learner.
- Practise the principles of learning agility
- Use suitable technology to support and enhance their learning experience within the discipline area

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- Time management, reading, writing, referencing and plagiarism, searching for and evaluating sources of information, working online.
- Critical thinking: issues concerning knowledge, belief, and doubt.
- Critical writing: synthesis, paraphrasing and creating an informed argument, avoiding plagiarism.
- Reflection and self-reflection.
- Identity and sense of place; including values, culture and intercultural awareness, heritage, diversity and inclusion and, multilingualism.
- Skills for a range of assessment modes, including blogs, vlogs, video, presentations, performances, posters, exams and written coursework.

AIM(S)

- To develop student's awareness and appreciation of contemporary challenges relevant to the discipline facing individuals, organisations, communities and society, from a local, national and global perspective.
- To develop creative problem-solvers through the application of knowledge to real-world problems.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Identify and evaluate historical and contemporary issues and their impact on today's global society.
- Apply appropriate collaborative working practices to manage conflict and support effective decision making.
- Implement Design Thinking techniques to investigate problems in order to generate and evaluate solutions.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- Visions of the Future including digital transformation 4.0.
- How history, legislation and policy shape the world we live.
- Contemporary global issues, e.g. responsible stewardship, diversity, inclusion, ethics, culture and intercultural awareness.
- 'Wicked problems': the challenge of difficult or impossible problems where the affecting variables are not known or quantifiable.
- Design Thinking to investigate, define, propose and evaluate problem solutions.
- Recognising and overcoming cognitive bias.
- Decision making frameworks and techniques.
- Recognising individual differences and the role of emotional intelligence in the management of conflict.
- The role of diplomacy, persuasion and negotiation in effective collaboration.
- The significance of interdisciplinary thinking in finding effective solutions to problems.
- The role of ethics in identifying solutions.

- Collective decision-making.

Title	Creative Sound Manipulation
Date	14/09/2020
Level	4
Credits	20
Pre-Requisites	None

AIM(S)

- To develop the student's creative approach to the advanced potential of electronic sound.
- To maximise and extend the student's studio resources and techniques for the realisation of creative projects.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Demonstrate a proficiency, confidence and imagination in employing music technology studio facilities and techniques in the realisation of creative assignments.
- Design and capture new sound objects, and demonstrate the ability to implement them into a structured composition.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- Sample processing
- Audio manipulation techniques
- Tools for creative transformation in the frequency and time domain
- Granular synthesis
- Spectromorphology of sound
- Concrete sound
- Microsonic techniques.
- Composite textures
- Non-linear sequencing and arrangement techniques.
- Techniques of expansion and variation, macro_ and micro_ structures
- Discerning digital signal effect processing, spatial elements and perspective through mixing
- Musical ideas and expressive range
- Composition analysis

STUDY TIME ALLOCATION

AIM(S)

- To develop in the student a precise and critical understanding of the application and deployment of contemporary music production techniques.
- To realise a music production based project from the pre-production and recording stage through to the mixing and mastering stage.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Utilise modern software environments to create high order musical artefacts, with an emphasis on musical creativity.
- Identify and utilise appropriate theoretical compositional techniques and apply them into a self-constructed portfolio of original material via industry standard software notation tools.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- Pre-production approaches and techniques. The realization of music ideas into a production artefact.
- Workstation production and the DAW. The use of MIDI, virtual instruments, virtual DAFx, data management and the landscape of software production tools.
- Recording techniques, microphone selection, overdubbing and audio editing.
- Composition, music theory and arrangement (e.g. keys and chords progressions, transposing, melody and harmony development etc.). Use of software based notation tools and lead sheet creation.
- Analysis of contemporary trends and techniques within the commercial music production landscape.

AIM(S)

- To develop student's skills for independent study and life-long learning, which will form the foundations for successful completion of their degree programme and support future employment opportunities.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Demonstrate the foundational skills required to be a resilient and healthy independent learner.
- Practise the principles of learning agility
- Use suitable technology to support and enhance their learning experience within the discipline area

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- Time management, reading, writing, referencing and plagiarism, searching for and evaluating sources of information, working online.
- Critical thinking: issues concerning knowledge, belief, and doubt.
- Critical writing: synthesis, paraphrasing and creating an informed argument, avoiding plagiarism.
- Reflection and self-reflection.
- Identity and sense of place; including values, culture and intercultural awareness, heritage, diversity and inclusion and, multilingualism.
- Skills for a range of assessment modes, including blogs, vlogs, video, presentations, performances, posters, exams and written coursework.
- Skills and attitudes which underpin resilience, health, wellbeing and learning agility; the role of spirit, mind, emotions and body.

AIM(S)

- To provide an understanding of the core concepts and techniques involved in the planning, executing, and publishing of a film production.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Demonstrate a knowledge of film narrative structures and the significance of narrative in film texts;
- Identify and employ formal elements that constitute film representations;
- Demonstrate a knowledge of the established techniques associated with film production, through the production of a short film project;

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- Creative experimentation within film production.
- Script writing.
- Health and safety practices.
- Creating moodboards, treatments, step outlines and storyboards.
- Consideration of their production workflow and effectiveness in communicating intended ideas.
- Film production research.
- Nurture the development of a production portfolio that will consist of components that reflect the requirements of the contemporary media industry.
- Engagement with film production and post-production techniques through practical tasks and formative assessment.
- Key film production practices and standards-
- Areas of film production to be covered can include camera operation, lighting, editing, titling, and publishing.
- Introduction to the formal conventions of cinematography, mise-en-scene and editing.
- Examination of film narrative structures, and film narration methodologies.

- Discussion of the ideological meanings conveyed by a variety of moving image texts.

Title	Production Technologies
Date	11/09/2020
Level	4
Credits	20
Pre-Requisites	n/a

AIM(S)

- To introduce students to the theory and practice of lighting, sound, AV and other relevant industry technologies.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Demonstrate basic knowledge and understanding of the processes involved in lighting, sound and AV
- Apply practical and theoretical approaches in carrying out lighting, sound and AV tasks essential to good practice, and in accordance with health and safety guidelines.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

The module divides into two consecutive areas of study.

- Students will explore the theory and practice of sound. This aspect of the module will begin with a brief introduction to the nature of sound, its properties and its application within a performance context. The various devices for producing live sound effects will then be explored, comparing the quality of these sources with their recorded, analogue and digital, equivalents.
- Students will develop their practical and theoretical understanding of current practice, beginning with a qualitative analysis of the various sources of pre-recorded sound. This approach will continue with an exploration of the way in which sounds from these sources can be mixed, adapted and then amplified. Using computer software students will explore the creation, manipulation and modification of sound effects through a series of practical projects concerned with the creation of an edited soundscape.
- Students will encounter the area of lighting and AV, receiving a brief introduction to the evolution of illumination, before concentrating on those technical innovations that established lighting and AV as an art form. Students will study current technology's ability to facilitate the design aesthetic of a production rather than be an end in itself. Nevertheless, this introductory course will concentrate on the current 'tools of the trade' and the processes involved in realising a lighting/AV design rather than creating one.
- Study areas selected for consideration will include the basic principles of electricity, the identification and maintenance of lanterns, the safe use of ladders and towers, as well as the procedures involved in cabling, rigging, focusing and colouring lanterns. Students will also be introduced to the control of light.

- A series of practical projects and exercises will test the students' understanding of the basic methodology of lighting design and the accepted procedures with regard to the necessary paperwork required to transfer a design into reality.
- The module may also include a variety of professional talks and visits to companies within the industry.

Pre-Requisites	None

AIM(S)

- To introduce the student to basic equipment, software and technology associated with sound recording studios, including basic instruction in the use of mixers, monitors, microphones, FX processors and other hardware.
- To introduce the student to the theory and practice associated with a range of appropriate music technology software found in the recording studio

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of this module, the student should be able to demonstrate the ability to:

- Safely and competently operate studio equipment and conduct a multi-track recording session.
- Conduct a mix-down and mastering session that results in the production of a stereo master recording on the appropriate medium.
- Work together in a team of engineers and performers.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- Health and safety aspects of studio engineering.
- Introduction to the DAW through audio and MIDI.
- Audio mixer, theory and practice.
- Microphone techniques.
- Routing and processing audio signals: microphones, DI, patch-bay, desk inserts, auxiliary sends, etc.
- Effects and signal processing; use of outboard equipment, eg compressor, gate, FX units etc.
- Setting up a headphone mix for performers.
- Recording acoustic instruments, e.g. drums, guitar, piano vocals, etc.
- Performing a basic stereo mix-down session and producing a stereo master.

Coursework	Multi-track Recording Project Exemplar: Students may record a jazz band, including instruments drums/percussion, bass, piano, saxophone and vocals. The recording may take place over many sessions, guided by the lecturer, but primarily conducted by the students. The length of the material produced will be agreed with the module coordinator. Students might try out advanced mixing techniques with the acoustic instruments. Students then conduct a mix-down session and mastering session. They may use studio elements such as EQ, Compressor/Limiter, etc. The end result will be the production of a stereo master recording. a report (1000 words) documenting technical and aesthetic decisions.	70%

Title	Principles of Design
Date	08/12/2021
Level	4
Credits	20
Pre-Requisites	None

AIM(S)

- To introduce students to the application of the principles of visual communication.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Analyse a variety of written material from the viewpoint of the designer, responding to its artistic challenges in terms of atmosphere and action.
- Access and apply visual research as a basis for design exploration and discussion.
- Demonstrate basic visual design through 2D, 3D and installation work.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

Students will explore the theory and practice of design through a series of discussions and projects designed to establish a practical methodology of the discipline.

- Historical analysis of the designer's creative challenge from classical times to the present day. The work, ideas and influence of a variety of practitioners (Theatre - Vitruvius, Inigo Jones, Garrick, Appia, Craig) (Video, TV and Film - Tim Burton, Rodger Deakins, May Deren, Professor Edward Thomas, Gary Card, Catherine Martin) will be examined alongside the ways in which changing physical space, design aesthetics and technical innovation have altered design processes.
- Using appropriate material, students will analyse a variety of stimulus from the perspective of the designer, using their findings in a creation of a 'visual research portfolio'. Fine Art, music, poetic and photographic references might be utilised in this respect.
- The study of visual communication will be introduced through the literal and abstract identification of familiar objects. Concepts such as audience perception, visual noise, cultural and social coding, stereotypes, symbols, metaphors, iconography and an awareness of visual grammar will assist in the critical appraisal of this relationship.
- Having established the significance of visual communication within this transaction, a common visual vocabulary will be established through a series of practical exercises and through discussion. Students will examine how the objectives of the designer are formalised in relation to text, action and space.
- The module may also include a variety of professional talks/workshops and visits to companies within the industry.

AIM(S)

- To develop students' knowledge and understanding of established backstage structures and prop making techniques.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Display knowledge and understanding of the methodology and responsibilities of a variety of backstage roles.
- Demonstrate a clear understanding of the props making department and range of materials.
- Recognise and adhere to safe working practices regarding relevant processes, machinery, and materials

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- Students will concentrate on key skills and methodologies fundamental to the sourcing and making props for stage or screen. The relationship between visual appearance and practical function will be discussed in the context of action and style. The gathering of appropriate reference material, historical research and visual evidence will be considered alongside the organisation of appropriate prop lists, schedules, material orders and budgets. The creative thought processes integral to prop-making will be emphasised within a logical and structured approach to problem solving in general.
- Subsequently, students will be introduced to the three key areas of prop-making namely construction, carving, and casting. Various materials and techniques will be introduced including, for example, positive and negative mould-making, polystyrene carving, and the adaptation and fabrication of miscellaneous materials.
- Students will explore a variety of production roles from across theatre, TV and Film. Students will be introduced to the composition of a variety of management structures before concentrating on the team's changing roles throughout the rehearsal and production processes. Special attention will be given to the interpretation of ground plans, the mark-up of the stage, the formation and notation of the 'book', the effective sourcing, modification, creation and organisation of props, alongside important administrative duties such as scheduling and budgetary control.
- The module may also include a variety of professional talks and visits to companies within the industry.

Title	Scenic Art and Costume
Date	08/12/2021
Level	4
Credits	20
Pre-Requisites	None

AIM(S)

- To introduce students to the relationship between design and its interpretation through scenic art and costume.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Identify and use safe working practices regarding relevant machinery, materials and health and safety guidelines
- Demonstrate a range of scenic art and costume skills and techniques.
- Evaluate and reflect upon the roles of both the scenic art and costume departments within the overall structure of backstage practice.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- During this module students will be introduced to the tools, materials and techniques of the scenic art workshop (paint shop). The module will begin by comparing the technical, interpretative arts of the scenic artist with the more conceptual approach of the designer and will include an introduction to the use and manipulation of colour, texture, line and form. The dimension of space, both real and illusory, will then be added as the idea of composition is considered.
- Students will encounter those art and craft skills fundamental to the work of the scenic designer through classes and projects focused on observation, drawing, painting and model making.
- Students will be introduced to the use of materials such as scenic paints, powders, distempers, emulsions, dyes, inks, texturing materials, adhesives, solvents and fire proofing solutions. A distinction will be drawn between illusionistic/figurative painting on a two-dimensional surface and the surface decoration of three-dimensional structures, although both theatrical styles will emphasise the necessity of detailed artwork or reference material. Techniques studied will include colour mixing and matching, stippling, graining, dry-brushing, spattering, gridding, lining, cross-hatching, colour washing, highlighting and shadowing.
- Students will concentrate on those key skills and methodologies fundamental of the wardrobe department. Tasks that relate both to the maintenance of stock and the department's responsibility on a particular production will be explored in detail.
- Students will learn the skills necessary to adapt existing garments, draft a pattern and construct a relatively simple garment. The module will help students to develop accurate and rapid machining skills, as well as safe operating procedures.

- Various techniques will be demonstrated, including painting, dyeing, burning and sticking. Students will be encouraged to research information about fabrics, sourcing materials, costing them and estimating time for costume tasks.
- The module will emphasise the need for a common work ethic, and the ability to communicate effectively both as a team member and as an individual.

AIM(S)

- To develop students' abilities as performers to analyse, investigate, rehearse and present scripts for performance in workshop conditions.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- employ and evaluate strategies to prepare scripts for effective rehearsal and performance:
- exhibit an understanding of the role of features such as irony, rhythm, pace and mood in the realisation of a playwright's work:
- apply practical and theoretical approaches to an actor's development of naturalistic characters and performance.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- The practical interpretation of the playwright's words.
- Directorial approaches, such as those of Stanislavski, Uta Hagan and Sanford Meisner, will be drawn upon to offer insights into practical techniques of rehearsal, creating truthful characters and other preparation.
- A range of script extracts will be utilised to develop students' awareness of different approaches to an actor's preparation in rehearsal. Students interrogate scripts and isolate features on the page that give them insight into the character's intention and then clarify the means to reproduce these characters convincingly in performance.
- To amplify and consolidate script work, students will explore the ideas and approaches of seminal figures such as, for example, Constantin Stanislavski whose use of concepts such as 'emotional memory' provided actors with key rehearsal tools for the development of naturalistic character creation, or Lee Strasberg whose development of Method Acting significantly influenced screen acting during the twentieth century.

Module Code	ADPA4018
Title	Musical Performance
Date	08/12/2021
Level	4
Credits	20
Pre-Requisites	None

AIM(S)

- To introduce students to musical performance as part of an actor's training and to develop vocal skills in order expand the student's performance repertoire.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- employ practical and theoretical approaches to singing and vocal training as part of drama and performance;
- Identify and use appropriate skills in ensemble and individual performance presentations;
- evaluate personal strengths and weaknesses in their vocal work and identify strategies to develop their skills.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- An introduction to musical performance and vocal exploration as an integral part of drama and performance.
- Students will be introduced to the practice of treating of lyrics as dramatic text and the use of song to develop narrative and character.
- Students will be introduced to a range of exercises and techniques to develop their vocal clarity and projection as actors.
- The use of live accompaniment, pre-recorded backing tracks and vocal adaptation and amplification will also be introduced as subjects for discussion and practical exploration.
- Students will develop strategies to improve their vocal skills for projection, performance and singing.

Study Time Allocation

The study time for the module is divided as follows:

AIM(S)

- To assist students to pursue an individual study topic related specifically to a single module in which they have been unable to fully participate, and the learning outcomes of the module specifies collaborate activities.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Develop a practical investigation of an aspect of drama or theatre.
- Analyse ideas and concepts encountered in their study area.
- Produce either a practical or theoretical understanding of those skills deemed appropriate for the particular aspect of drama or theatre.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- The Personal Project (Retrieval) offers students the opportunity to pursue an appropriately specialised individual investigation into an aspect of drama or theatre chosen, in negotiation, by the student and the module tutor of one missed module. Students will select, after tutorial guidance and consultation, an area or topic of study which will offer opportunities for practical exploration and investigation.
- This module is designed to offer students a retrieval position where the collaborative tasks specified in a particular module make it impossible for those learning outcomes to be met. Additional flexibility is gained through developing an alternative individual task within this module, which still allows opportunity for progression and retrieval within the standard university timeframes.
- While a module of this nature must remain flexible in order to cater for, and nurture, the specific situations of individual students, it does so within a framework which encourages students at all times to organise and develop their knowledge and understanding of the practical area of study that they have been unable to participate in. Assessment may involve either some form of individual performance project alongside documentation of research through either a process workbook or academic essay.

Study Time Allocation

The study time for the module is divided as follows:

Title	Scenic Construction and Drawing
Date	08/12/2021
Level	4
Credits	20
Pre-Requisites	None

AIM(S)

- To develop students' knowledge and understanding of scenic construction and workshop etiquette considered essential to good working practice and in accordance with health and safety guidelines.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Demonstrate basic knowledge and understanding of scenic construction
- Operate hand and machine tools commonly used in scenic construction in line with health and safety procedures
- Display practical knowledge and understanding of the applications of CAD through the generation of technical drawings and ground plans to construct scenic items

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- The module examines the key construction areas of carpentry and metals. Initially, students will encounter the safe and efficient organisation of the scenic shop, together with a practical introduction to essential tools, hardware and materials. At the outset of the module students will be given a workshop safety induction and be introduced to personal protective equipment which must be worn at all times within the workshop areas.
- Study will initially focus on the accurate interpretation of technical drawings that might be provided from a professional designer with regard to a particular item of scenery. These drawings will be developed by the students into working drawings, appropriate for the construction process.
- The students will be introduced to the carpentry procedures necessary for the construction of units such as a canvas or ply covered flats, a set of treads and rostrum. The initial metal working sessions will cover the application of metal work in scenic construction with its advantages and disadvantages being analysed.
- The various techniques and processes for cutting and joining steel will be examined before a more practical exploration takes place into the type of metal working which one might expect to meet within a theatre workshop. This introduction to scenic construction will conclude with an assessment of the ways in which the techniques used in the creation of these basic items of scenery can be applied to more complex constructions.

- Students will then approach the construction of an entire or partial set, interpreting the prepared technical drawings or scale model into units of construction, preparing, working drawings and production schedules, sourcing and costing materials.
- Working in small teams, the group will complete the construction, sharing knowledge and understanding of the various processes involved and critically evaluating the construction as a whole.
- The module may also include a variety of professional talks and visits to companies within the industry.

AIM(S)

- To introduce students to recognized physical and vocal performance vocabulary, theory and technique that will develop and extend their effective application and understanding of appropriate practical and expressive skills within performative and facilitation contexts.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Demonstrate the application of specified physical and vocal skills and techniques in the communication of performance material;
- Evaluate and reflect upon the development of their own physical and vocal skills and techniques for preparation and performance within their discipline;
- Develop collaborative and independent practical techniques and approaches that support physical literacy and aid presence in rehearsal and performance;

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- Students will explore a variety of physical and vocal skills and techniques, for the purposes of performance, may include:
 - Body and voice in facilitation contexts;
 - Emotional connection to character and physicality;
 - Posture, breath, articulation, resonance, and presence;
 - Rhythm, motif, pattern, repetition, and stillness;
 - Spatial awareness and physical patterns;
 - Touch and sensation;
 - Balance, shifting weight, control, precision, dynamics, and articulation;
 - Recognising the benefit of specific physical training practice.
- It will be expected that students will apply the acquired skills and techniques to develop their own physical and vocal practice outside of workshops and tutor-led sessions. Students will be encouraged to develop their personal physical skills through regular exercises.
- Students will experience skills-based practical workshops which will initially develop an awareness in both voice and body. These will include movement technique classes, physical training sessions, and consider the relevance of movement in socio-cultural contexts.

- Acquired skills and techniques will be utilised for creative application for formative and summative assessment. This will encourage and support the student to evaluate the significance and relevance of physical practice and presence to their developing interest as a performing artist and/or practitioner.
- Additionally, lectures and seminars will explore the use of voice and body from relevant and current theoretical perspectives.
- Practitioners that students will be introduced to may include Rudolf Laban, Jacques Lecoq, Joan Skinner, Jerzy Grotowski, Ohad Naharin, Lloyd Newson/DV8, Nigel Charnock, Michael Chekhov, Pina Bausch, Cicely Berry, Barbara Houseman, Kristin Linklater, Patsy Rodenburg, Patrice Pavis, and Anne Bogart.

AIM(S)

- To introduce students to dance and choreography as part of an actor's training and to develop movement skills in order to expand the student's performance repertoire.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- employ practical and theoretical approaches to dance and choreography training as part of drama and performance;
- identify and use appropriate skills and dance styles in ensemble and individual physical performance presentations;
- evaluate personal strengths and weaknesses in their physical work and identify strategies to develop their skills.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- An introduction to dance styles and choreography techniques as an integral part of drama and performance.
- Students will be introduced to the practice of learning dance styles and sequences as part of staged performance pieces as well as stand-alone routines.
- Students will be introduced to a range of exercises and techniques to develop their physical presence, rhythm and dance skills as actors.
- Developing physical literacy through practical and creative exploration of dance styles.
- Developing ideas and creative physical content through collaborative practice
- Students will develop their knowledge and understanding of dance styles, physical performance, precision and discipline of movement as well as the importance of physical health and wellbeing.

AIM(S)

- To build an appreciation of contemporary challenges by understanding genre, using scripts and plays, screenwriters and playwrights from the late nineteenth century to the present day.
- To foster analytical, reflective, problem-solving and creative skills through the application of professional script and design analysis techniques and methodologies.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- recognise and evaluate key scripts, plays, screenwriters and playwrights that inform contemporary dialogues within the creative industries;
- distinguish those foundational script analysis skills required to be a creative and independent learner;
- use suitable agile, technological and collaborative working practices that locate their research and script analysis techniques within their discipline area.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- The works of selected dramatists will form the core of the students' exploration. Playwrights will be selected to offer students a clear and accessible introduction to how plays reflect society's changing perceptions of matters such as, for example, class, the role and status of women, sexual freedom, social morality, language, education, social institutions, identity and sense of place; including values, culture and intercultural awareness, heritage, diversity and inclusion and, multilingualism.
- The role of diplomacy, persuasion and negotiation in effective collaboration.
- The significance of interdisciplinary thinking in effective script analysis and creative conversations.
- Collective decision-making.
- Time management, reading, writing, referencing and plagiarism, searching for and evaluating sources of information, working online.
- Critical thinking: issues concerning knowledge, belief, and doubt.
- Critical writing: synthesis, paraphrasing and creating an informed argument, avoiding plagiarism.
- Reflection and self-reflection.

- Identity and sense of place; including values, culture and intercultural awareness, heritage, diversity and inclusion and multilingualism.
- Skills for a range of assessment modes, including blogs, vlogs, video, presentations, performances, posters, exams and written coursework.
- Team working.
- Digital Identity

AIM(S)

- To develop an understanding of experiential learning theory and how it can be used to develop foundation skills for safe personal practice of adventurous activities.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- refer to a model of experiential learning as an effective means of developing and improving knowledge and understanding of personal safety in adventurous activities;
- demonstrate an understanding of how to adequately prepare themselves to participate in a range of adventurous activities in a variety of environments and prevailing conditions;
- demonstrate a basic understanding and ability to respond to first aid scenarios in adventurous activities.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- Kolb's (1984) Experiential learning theory will be examined and employed throughout the module.
- Reflective practice will be emphasised as a fundamental means of developing personal behaviours, attitudes and understanding.
- An introduction to the key principles of water safety and rescue in line with current recognised practice in relevant governing body literature.
- Two-day first aid course with an emphasis on responding to scenarios based on adventurous activities: hypothermia, bleeding, resuscitation, etc.; including the preparation of first aid kits and other emergency equipment appropriate to the outdoors.
- Personal clothing for outdoor activities: the basic characteristics of different fabrics and how they relate to comfort and performance in adventurous activities; explore the idea of clothing systems.
- Practical participation in a range of outdoor activities in a variety of environments, such as: whitewater safety, working at height, navigation, hill walking, mountain biking.
- Consideration will be given to the range of environmental hazards that might impact on personal safety whilst learning in different outdoor environments.

- Retrieving, interpreting, and reviewing weather forecast; developing an understanding of how recent and prevailing conditions might impact on participants undertaking adventurous activities in specific environments such as mountains, forests, rivers, and coasts.
- The selection, use, maintenance, and inspection of protective and other safety equipment, for example: throw lines, various helmets, climbing harnesses, personal flotation devices.
- Practical “emergency scenarios” will be used to explore appropriate responses in different situations and to further develop understanding of experiential learning.

AIM(S)

- To enable students to identify hazards, assess risks and take steps to control those risks whilst recognising the potential benefits of an adventurous environment.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- identify and evaluate common hazards, risks and associated methods for mitigation potentially encountered in a range of adventurous activities, such as Coasteering, Mountain Biking and Climbing;
- demonstrate understanding of the remit and scope of various national governing body awards in a range of professional adventure settings, including an awareness of key legislation and how it is practically enacted within the adventure sector, e.g., Adventurous Activities Licencing;
- evaluate the potential benefits of engaging with challenging and adventurous outdoor environments including the role of perceived and real risk;
- demonstrate understanding of the importance of effective decision making and the relationship between experience and judgement as applicable to a personal and professional context.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- The role of National Governing Bodies and the Adventure Activities Licensing Scheme alongside broader health and safety legislation will be discussed in relation to impact on risk management in adventurous outdoor activities and environments.
- Practical risk assessment scenarios in different outdoor activity environments will provide opportunities to develop the ability to identify and assess risks and the evaluation of different types of risk assessments.
- Key terminology will be explored and appropriate technical terms relevant to the activities and the risk management process will be reinforced throughout the module.
- Different formats for presenting risk assessments will be compared and evaluated.
- Site specific, activity specific, dynamic and generic risk assessments will be explored and evaluated.
- The concept of “risk education” will be explored with an emphasis on the transferability of effective risk management skills between different activities and environments.
- There will be a range of discussions focussing on issues such as: subjective and objective risk, emotional and physical risk, likelihood and severity of consequence, immediate and cumulative risk.
- Discussions on decision making in an adventure setting will be integrated throughout the practical sessions, focusing on the role of heuristics and associated traps.
- Practical sessions will offer opportunities to develop experience and personal skills that can be used to counter risk.

- Students will become familiar with the selection, maintenance and inspection of a range of equipment that might provide personal and participant protection.
- Means of effective communication both within the scope of the activity and in the event of summoning help will be explored.

AIM(S)

- To explore and develop student's knowledge and practical understanding of creative praxis, improvisation, devising and play within a performative creative process.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Identify, adapt and use strategies and skills of improvisation, collaboration devising and play in the process of creating and performing material.
- Utilise knowledge and understanding of the significance and potential of devising as a key aspect of drama practice:
- Demonstrate reflective practice and critical evaluation in process and performance

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- The module introduces students to a fundamental element of the drama practitioner's work – the devising of original creative work in response to given stimuli.
- The exploration of devising and developing narrative skills as an element of creating content.
- Developing ideas and creative content through collaborative practice.
- Students will develop their knowledge and understanding of creativity, collaboration, play and devised content produced by themselves and by other practitioners encountered through independent research, such as, but not exclusive to, Upright Citizen Brigade, Pippa Evans, Keith Johnston and Ed Catmull
- The culmination of the module will be a production project, developed collaboratively, that draws upon some of the various disciplines encountered in this and other Level Four modules.

AMCAN(ION)

- Archwilio a datblygu gwybodaeth a dealltwriaeth ymarferol myfyrwyr o arfer creadigol, creu byrffyr, dyfeisio a chwarae rhan o fewn proses greadigol berfformiadol.

DEILLIANNAU DYSGU

Ar ôl cwblhau'r modwl hwn yn llwyddiannus, dylai'r myfyriwr allu:

- Nodi, addasu a defnyddio strategaethau a sgiliau creu byrffyr, cydweithio, dyfeisio a chwarae rhan, yn y broses o greu a pherfformio deunydd.
- Defnyddio gwybodaeth a dealltwriaeth o arwyddocâd a photensial dyfeisio fel agwedd allweddol ar arfer drama:
- Dangos arfer adfyfyriol a gwerthuso beirniadol mewn proses a pherfformiad

CYNNWYS DANGOSOL

- Mae'r modwl yn cyflwyno myfyrwyr i elfen sylfaenol o waith yr ymarferydd drama – dyfeisio gwaith creadigol gwreiddiol mewn ymateb i symbyliadau penodol.
- Archwilio dyfeisio a datblygu sgiliau naratif fel elfen o greu cynnwys.
- Datblygu syniadau a chynnwys creadigol drwy arfer cydweithredol.
- Bydd myfyrwyr yn datblygu eu gwybodaeth a'u dealltwriaeth o greadigrwydd, cydweithio, chwarae rhan a chynnwys dyfeisiedig a gynhyrchir ganddynt hwy eu hunain a chan ymarferwyr eraill y deuir ar eu traws drwy ymchwil annibynnol, megis Upright Citizen Brigade, Pippa Evans, Keith Johnston ac Ed Catmull, ond heb fod yn gyfyngedig i'r rhain.
- Penllanw'r modwl fydd prosiect cynhyrchu, a ddatblygir ar y cyd, sy'n tynnu ar rai o'r disgyblaethau amrywiol y daethpwyd ar eu traws yn y modwl hwn a modylau Lefel Pedwar eraill.

Module Code	ADPA4013
Title	General Musicianship and Studio Techniques
Date	05/05/2021
Level	4
Credits	20
Pre-Requisites	None

AIM(S)

- To introduce the principles of music theory, and consider how we can analyse and contextualise music, in order to develop the students understanding of musical content and structure.
- To develop an understanding of the principles and practices of studio working from both the studio and the control room as well as location recording.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Demonstrate the ability to recognise and use essential components of a musical language (intervals, rhythms, modes, metres, timbre, texture, instrumentation).
- Demonstrate understanding of the application and operation of sound technology in a studio context.
- Demonstrate an understanding of the relationships between practice and theory in music.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- A lecture series will focus on the fundamental principles of music theory, developing understanding of form/structure, melody, rhythm and harmonic context.
- The stylistic scope of the material covered in the module is wide ranging and the approach to facilitating learning will be from the perspective of applied musicianship.
- Students will acquaint themselves with various forms of music studio as a performer (recording artist) and within the control room (producer/engineer).
- A grounding in the use of Sibelius notation software will be provided as well as recording/sequencing software such as the Apple Logic DAW.

Study Time Allocation

The study time for the module is divided as follows:

AIM(S)

- To engage in production of a large scale performance project.
- To prepare for a performance and deliver to a public audience.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Demonstrate the ability to collaborate in music-making to realise a large scale performance project.
- Demonstrate in-depth knowledge and understanding of a body of music and of the repertoires, texts, resources and concepts associated with it.
- Demonstrate an awareness of different professional and cultural contexts.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- Students will take part in the production of a performance.
- Practical sessions with professional tutors will aid the creation, development and rehearsal of the performance piece.
- Students will work collaboratively in workshops and masterclass sessions with tutors and peers developing solo and ensemble aspects of the project ready for delivery to a public audience.

AIM(S)

- To provide an opportunity for students to experience and take ownership of an individual role within an ensemble dance performance, drawing upon skills acquired throughout the level

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Demonstrate a sophisticated understanding and awareness of the practical development and application of their 'role', in order to develop a performance which is accurate both stylistically and within the choreographer's vision.
- Deploy high level organisational and decision making skills with regard to development and rehearsal methods.
- Demonstrate the ability to work fully and independently with a choreographer and in cooperation with other company members.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

- This module will be structured around the processes of a dance production.
- The production will be directed by a guest choreographer while the module coordinator will act as a general supervisor.
- An auditions process will be held in order to allocate appropriate role/roles to students.
- The structure of the rehearsal process will reflect current professional practice. Some flexibility will be ensured in order that each student has a commensurate challenge and the assessment criteria will reflect this.
- An appropriate emphasis will be placed on developing the students' evaluation/critical thinking skills and ensuring that they have the appropriate tools to evaluate their contribution to the final work as a whole.
