look up some of the above illustrators and their work it is exciting to see how individual they are

- make sure you also research other art fields there is so much out there to work with and look at to inspire you.
  - fine art
  - textiles
  - print
  - photography
  - 3d
  - instillation work etc.
- note; a lot of the illustrators in the PowerPoint are featured giving interviews in a book called ‘making great illustration’ by derek brazell and jo davies

reportage

Having looked at the different types of illustration now we get onto the genre of reportage illustration which you will be working with this semester in the visual studies 1 module M4X01602
In the following slides are some examples of illustrators that work in this field of illustration.

Research reportage illustrators for this project look them up and see what they do, the materials they use and how they use them.
look at their drawing techniques find out their stories and have some fun researching.
