Intergenerational Dialogue & Inquiry for Healing in Global Communities

The fifth UNESCO webinar gathers voices from communities on four continents that are part of the UNESCO Intergenerational Dialogue & Inquiry (IDI) Programme Pilot. IDI acknowledges the long-lasting traumatic effects stemming from the harms of historical dehumanising atrocities and the continued legacies of oppression and discrimination. It seeks to engage diverse stakeholders in healing processes of recognition, restoration, reconciliation and regeneration.

Linda Tinio-Le Douarin, Deputy Chief, UNESCO Section for Inclusion, Rights and Intercultural Dialogue, Social and Human Sciences Sector.

Dianne Regisford, Oxford-based dynamic Social Sculpture practitioner, invested in regenerative ARTivism for belonging, racial equity and cultural transformation, and founder, visionary and creator of Evoking Belonging.

Casey Overton, radical nonprofit strategist, writer, and spiritual activist cultivating space for collective healing, and the editor of "Liturgy that Matters", an enfolded publication, and coordinator for Black faith programs.

Gloria Patricia Moreno, traditional indigenous doctor of the Cañamón Lomapieta, Colombia, and the principal advisor of wise men and women of the Caldas Province.

Ojeriakhi Oluwaseyi (Seyi), born and raised of mixed ethnicity of Edo and Yoruba in the suburbs of Lagos, Nigeria, a writer, and an artist and student of the Faculty of Law at the University of Lagos.

Following their presentations, the speakers will engage in a dialogue on the emerging themes, and respond to questions from the audience.
