

I believe that when creating the reflective journal, I created a coherent argument using moral arguments and defended these arguments using articles from the UNCRC and Information cited from news websites such as the BBC.