Global Education

All children deserve the chance to be educated and learn the essential skills to succeed in life. Their evidence-based programs are implemented by the SCF teams as the different educational projects develop and grow.

- In Bhutan SCF is training teachers in 200 preschools to introduce play based learning
- Literacy Boost measures reading skills , trains teachers, involves communities
- Numeracy Boost teaches Basic maths skills essential to help children reach their potential
- Every Last Child : Seeks to Educate every last girl that they may grow up educated safe and healthy . Empowering and giving her the freedom to choose her own futures. SCF, 2019).

SCF Hunger and Livelihoods Programme
Emergency Food Security and Livelihoods Team.
2018: reached 685,984 people including 481,853 children. :

- Helps families with basic needs and preserve their livelihoods
- Cash and voucher programmes give families choice and the dignity to choose and buy their own needs., and support the local markets.
- Prevents the selling of assets to meet immediate needs and protects future livelihoods. Keeps children in school (SCF, 2019)

Health and Nutrition :

Globally close to 6 million die before the age of five, many die from preventable or treatable disease as they have no access to health services. Poor nutrition is a further contributory factor as more than 150 million children are malnourished SCF leads the way in maternal and infant health. Even with only a limited amount of life saving changes millions of lives can be saved. 6.5 million medical interventions were delivered to children under five in 37 countries 282,00 children have directly accessed their clinical services in emergency settings such as disaster or war(SCF, 2019).

'Refugee children experience things that even adults should not experience. We have to give them back their childhood.' Carolyn Miles : President & CEO Save the Children fund. SCF humanitarian teams work with children from Syria, South Sudan, Burundi , in Uganda, Tanzania Lebanon and many more countries.to support refugee children on the move, in camps or in host communities.
