Milford Haven:

A History.

10,000BC - The waterway is created by the flooding of a ria.

790-1066 - Vikings use the location as a haven. Viking chieftain, Hubba, overwintered 23 ships here and lent his name to Hubberston, a nearby village.

The name, Milford, comes from a word from the Viking heritage, Melrfjoirdr; melr meaning sandbank, and fiords meaning fiord or inlet.

1167-1649 - Kings and leaders such as; Norman Marcher Lord Richard De Clare, Henry II, French Marshall Jean II de Rieux, Henry Tudor, and Oliver Cromwell used this haven to plan and begin their journeys to battle and war.

1793 - Sir William Hamilton, a landowner settled Quaker families from Nantucket and established Milford Haven as a whaling station.

1800 - The port becomes the Royal Navy Dockyard.

1802 - Admiral Lord Nelson visits the Haven.

1888 - On the 27th of September, the Steam trawler 'Sybil' was the first vessel to land in Milford Docks.

1906 - By 1906, Milford Haven had developed into the sixth biggest port in the United Kingdom.

1940's - Milford Haven was used as a base for the allied American troops, which played an important role in the D-Day landings.

1958 - The Port of Milford Haven is established as a statutory entity.

1991 - The Cutty Sark Tall Ships come and celebrate the opening of Milford Marina.

2002-2022 - Many developments have been made and openings of new buildings, shops and establishments, culminating in the opening of Milford Waterfront's TY Hotel.
