Local Intelligence.

Leicester Trade.—Business remains good. The demand both for London and the country trade continues on all hands satisfactory. The workmen are all employed. Wools and yarns remain the same.

Midland Railway.—Return of Traffic for the week ending Oct. 7, 1848, £34,056. 9s. 8d.; corresponding week last year, £25,027. 3s. 7d.

The Theatre.—The great attraction for the fair week has been the appearance of Mr. Henwood's beautiful trained mare, Black Bess, in Turpin's Ride to York, and Gentleman Jack. The house has been crowded nightly.—The long announced piece of the Lonely Man of the Ocean, is to be performed next week.

Sale of Mr. W. Kelly's Books and Curiosities.—The order of sale of this valuable collection of books and curiosities, has now been made, and is advertised in our paper of this week.

Leicester Michaelmas Fair.—At our fair on Tuesday last, an average quantity of sheep were exhibited. There was rather a brisk demand for ewes, and most of them were sold at prices averaging from 30s. to 40s. per head. The show of store beast was not considered first-rate, and anything of good quality was readily disposed of at tolerably good prices. Fat beef was very dull of sale, much indeed of inferior quality, and the very best scarcely reached 6d. per lb. The show of horses was as usual inferior, and little business doing.

Leicester Cheese Fair.—At the Fair on Wednesday there was not more than an average quantity of cheese pitched, and not so many buyers as usual, but prices being moderate nearly all was sold at prices varying from 50s. to 60s. A few fine dairies fetched 1s. to 2s. more money. Many lots were undisposed of the first day, but the whole was cleared off by Thursday afternoon.

Organization of Labour.—A lecture on the above subject was delivered on Monday night at the Amphitheatre, by Mr. G. J. Holyoake. The attendance was very small, but the meeting was very quiet. After replying to some statements in the Times reflecting on the French Communists, the lecturer proceeded to sketch his plan of organization, which was very much after the plan of the Rev. Mr. Morgan's self-supporting villages.
