

LEVEL 6 ASSESSMENT SPECIFICATION

Student name:		Student ID number:
Programme:	BSc (Hons) Health and Care of Children and Young People
Module:	Perspectives on Child Pedagogy and Development
Module code:	BMHP6017	Contribution to Overall Module Assessment (%):	50%
Lecturer:	Karen Hudson	Internal Verifier:	Karen Burton
Assignment Title:	Poster Presentation and Supporting Paper	Word count (or equivalent):	Poster 1000 Paper 2000
Submission deadline:	13 th December 2019	Return date of provisional marks & written feedback:	17 th January 2020
Submission method:	All written assessments, where practical and possible, must be submitted via Turnitin unless otherwise instructed by the Lecturer. (Please DO NOT put this assessment specification into Turnitin or it will match many similarities with other students' submissions.) Alternative submission method (if applicable): Late submission of the assessment will result in a late penalty mark. Penalties for late submission: Up to one week late, maximum mark of 40%. Over one week late, 0%. Only the Extenuating Circumstances Panel may approve a change to submission dates.
Academic honesty / referencing:	Academic honesty is required. In the main body of your submission you must give credit to authors on whose research and ideas your work is based. Append to your submission a reference list that indicates the books, articles, etc. that you have used, cited or quoted in order to complete this assessment.

Module Learning Outcomes (from module syllabus)
1. Critically analyze factors affecting the growth and development of children and young people.

TASK DESCRIPTION

The student is required to produce and present an individual digital poster about a particular aspect of the growth and pedagogical development of children and young people, which is of particular interest and a supportive paper (2000 words). The poster needs to provide a summary of key points outlined in the supportive paper. The paper needs to be submitted via Turnitin by 23.55 on 13th December 2019. The posters need to be submitted to Turnitin by 4.00pm Tuesday 3rd December and presentations will take place during the timetabled sessions from 5.00pm on Tuesday 3rd December 2018.

Using ICT produce a digital poster using software such as Microsoft Powerpoint/Publisher. Display the poster on an interactive whiteboard and orally present the information contained in the poster to the audience. (Approximately 10 minutes). The poster needs to be in Landscape format and presented as a single page in order to fit effectively on the digital whiteboard during the presentation. The supportive paper should cover the points indicated below in greater depth and the poster should provide a summary of these points, which should be explained during the oral presentation of the poster.
In the poster heading indicate the chosen topic for the poster presentation, which should be a factor which influences and affects the growth and pedagogical development of children and young people.
During the oral presentation state the chosen topic and target audience for the poster, justifying your chosen audience. Refer to the poster throughout the oral presentation.
Define key terms as appropriate, throughout the presentation.
Include relevant statistics, if appropriate, to indicate the trend or extent of the factor and its impact on children/young people.
Consider the benefits for and/or impact on the child or young person's growth and pedagogical development and well-being.
Discuss and evaluate relevant theories of health/child/family development as appropriate and discuss how they apply to the growth and pedagogical development of children and young people.
Present as a full and detailed response which is clear, coherent and well structured. Use appropriate syntax and sense of style. Use appropriate colour scheme and font size. Demonstrate evidence of through understanding of key concepts related to the topic,
Demonstrate reading of a variety of academic and media sources. Avoid sources which may not be trustworthy. Correct and appropriate referencing of the information and images used is required. A reference list is also required on the poster as well as the supportive paper.

GUIDANCE FOR STUDENTS IN THE COMPLETION OF TASKS

NOTE: The guidance offered below is linked to the five generic assessment criteria overleaf.

1. Engagement with Literature Skills

Your work must be informed and supported by scholarly material that is relevant to and focused on the task(s) set; you should make use of scholarly reviews and primary sources, where appropriate (for example, refereed research articles and/or original materials appropriate to the discipline). You should provide evidence that you have accessed a wide range of sources, which may be academic, governmental and industrial; these sources may include academic journal articles, textbooks, current news articles, organisational documents, and websites. You should consider the credibility of your sources; academic journals are normally highly credible sources while websites require careful consideration/selection and should be used sparingly. Any sources you use should be current and up-to-date, mostly published within the last five years or so, though seminal/important works in the field may be older. You must provide evidence of your research/own reading throughout your work, using a suitable referencing system, including in-text citations in the main body of your work and a reference list at the end of your work.

Guidance specific to this assessment: You should show a wide level of reading, a minimum of 25 to 30 references, from a variety of sources including reports, textbooks, academic journals and academic based websites. The credibility and relevance of all sources should be considered and untrustworthy sources should be avoided. Electronic referencing should be kept to a minimum and should not include tabloid newspapers, or non-academic sources. Ensure you use both author prominent and text prominent referencing within your work. Avoid referencing discrepancies by checking that the sources used in the text are cited in reference list and vice versa. Information provided on the poster and images used must be referenced. A reference list must be provided on the poster as well as in the supporting paper. Make use of the University's guidance for Harvard referencing to help you ensure the correct formats.

2. Knowledge and Understanding Skills

At level 6, you should be able to demonstrate coherent and detailed knowledge and a systematic understanding of the subject area, at least some of which is informed by the latest research and/or advanced scholarship within the discipline. You should be aware of the uncertainty, ambiguity and limits of knowledge. Your work must demonstrate the growing extent of your knowledge and systematic understanding of concepts and underlying principles associated with the subject area. Knowledge relates to the facts, information and skills you have acquired through your learning. You demonstrate your understanding by interpreting the meaning of the facts and information (knowledge). This means that you need to select and include in your work the concepts, techniques, models, theories, etc. appropriate to the task(s) set. You should be able to explain the theories, concepts, etc. meaningfully to show your understanding. Your mark/grade will also depend upon the extent to which you demonstrate your knowledge and understanding; ideally each should be complete and detailed, with comprehensive coverage.

Guidance specific to this assessment: Demonstrate coherent and detailed knowledge and understanding of the chosen subject, by gathering and presenting appropriate information to support a chosen factor, which influences the growth and pedagogical development of children and young people. Provide coherent and detailed explanations and interpretations of relevant statistical data and theories of child/family development as appropriate. Define and explain key terms to demonstrate detailed knowledge and understanding.

3. Cognitive and Intellectual Skills

You should be able to: critically evaluate evidence, arguments, assumptions, abstract concepts and data some of which are at the forefront of a discipline (and that may be incomplete) to devise and sustain arguments, to make judgements and/or solve problems; describe and comment upon particular aspects of current research, or equivalent advanced scholarship, in the discipline. Your work must contain evidence of logical, analytical thinking, evaluation and synthesis. For example, to examine and break information down into parts, make inferences, compile, compare and contrast information. This means not just describing what! But also justifying: Why? How? When? Who? Where? At what cost? At all times, you must provide justification for your arguments and judgements. Evidence that you have reflected upon the ideas of others within the subject area is crucial to you providing a reasoned and informed debate within your work. Furthermore, you should provide evidence that you are able to make sound judgements and convincing arguments using data and concepts. Sound, valid conclusions are necessary and must be derived from the content of your work. Where relevant, alternative solutions and recommendations may be proposed.

Guidance specific to this assessment: Undertake an analysis of the chosen topic and provide a critical evaluation and interpretation of the impact it has on children and young people's growth and pedagogical development. Use your findings to produce and present a digital poster and supporting paper. Critically evaluate and reflect upon relevant statistics and theories of child/family development as appropriate. Based on these, make sound judgements and convincing arguments in relation to the chosen topic and their potential impact on children and young people.

4. Practical Skills

At level 6, you should be able to apply the methods and techniques that you have learned to review, consolidate, extend and apply your knowledge and understanding, and to initiate and carry out projects. You will deploy accurately established techniques of analysis and enquiry relevant to the discipline, and apply them in complex and unpredictable contexts, to devise and sustain arguments and/or to solve problems. You should be able to frame appropriate questions to achieve a solution - or identify a range of solutions. You should be able to demonstrate how the subject-related concepts and ideas relate to real world situations and/or a particular context. How do they work in practice? You will deploy models, methods, techniques, and/or theories, in that context or circumstances, to assess current situations, perhaps to formulate plans or solutions to solve problems, or to create artefacts, some of which may be innovative and creative. This is likely to involve, for instance, the use of real world artefacts, examples and cases, the application of a model within an organisation and/or benchmarking one theory or organisation against others based on stated criteria. You should show awareness of the limitations of concepts and theories when applied in particular contexts.

Guidance specific to this assessment: Based on the content of your poster make reference to the key issues of concern. Discuss and apply relevant child development and family theory as appropriate in relation to the chosen topic and consider how these work in practice. Demonstrate how the subject-related concepts and ideas relate to real world situations. Consider how these may be devised to sustain arguments and/or to solve problems in the chosen area.

5. Transferable Skills for Life and Professional Practice

Your work must provide evidence of the qualities and transferable skills necessary for graduate-level employment requiring the exercise of initiative and personal responsibility and decision-making in complex and unpredictable circumstances. This includes demonstrating: the learning ability for professional development to advance existing skills and acquire new competences of a professional nature that will enable you to assume significant responsibility within organisations; that you can initiate and complete tasks and procedures, whether individually and/or collaboratively; that you can use appropriate media to effectively communicate information, arguments and analysis in a variety of forms to specialist and non-specialist audiences; fluency of expression; clarity and effectiveness in presentation and organisation. Work should be coherent and well-structured in presentation and organisation.

Guidance specific to this assessment: You should produce an individual, digitally produced poster using software such as Microsoft Publisher/Powerpoint and present it to your peer group (approximately 10 minutes). The poster needs to be in landscape format and presented as a single page in order to fit effectively on the digital whiteboard. You should use an appropriate colour scheme and font size. You will also produce a supporting 2000 word paper which critically evaluates the range of relevant literature and variety of sources used to support the topic and its presentation. Both pieces of work should be well structured and written in a coherent manner which demonstrates clarity of thought. The paper should be written in an academic style, and be focused, concise and subject specific. The structure should include an introduction and a conclusion. Sentences need to be constructed appropriately and joined into paragraphs. Avoid the use of long sentences and ensure you use academic language throughout. Paragraphs need to be linked together to enable the assignment to flow. Proof read your work to avoid spelling and grammatical errors. Students are recommended to use an appropriate font such as Times New Roman 12, Calibri 12 or Arial 12 point.

GENERIC ASSESSMENT CRITERIA

Level 6

In accordance with the Framework for Higher Education Qualifications, at the end of Level 6 students should have coherent and detailed knowledge and a systematic understanding of their subject area, at least some of which is informed by the latest research and/or advanced scholarship within the discipline. They will be able to accurately deploy established techniques of analysis and enquiry within a discipline, using their conceptual understanding to devise and sustain arguments and/or to solve problems. They should be aware of the uncertainty, ambiguity and limits of knowledge. They should be able to critically evaluate evidence, arguments, assumptions, abstract concepts and data (that may be incomplete), to make judgements, and to frame appropriate questions to achieve a solution - or identify a range of solutions. They will apply the methods and techniques that they have learned to review, consolidate, extend and apply their knowledge and understanding, and to initiate and carry out projects. They will have the ability to manage their own learning, and to make use of scholarly reviews and primary sources (for example, refereed research articles and/or original materials appropriate to the discipline). They will demonstrate the qualities and transferable skills necessary for employment requiring: the exercise of initiative and personal responsibility; decision-making in complex and unpredictable contexts; the learning ability needed to undertake appropriate further training of a professional or equivalent nature.

Engagement with literature (including reading, referencing, academic conventions and academic honesty)	Little or no evidence of reading and/or reliance on inappropriate sources. Views and findings mostly unsupported and non-authoritative. Referencing conventions used incoherently or largely absent.	Poor engagement with essential reading. No evidence of wider reading. Reliance on inappropriate sources, and/or indiscriminate use of sources. Heavily reliant on information gained through class contact. Inconsistent and weak use of referencing.	Engagement with a limited range of mostly relevant and credible sources. Some omissions and minor errors. Referencing conventions evident though not always applied accurately or consistently.	Engagement with an appropriate range of research-informed literature, including sources retrieved independently. Some over-reliance on texts. Referencing may show minor inaccuracies or inconsistencies.	Engagement with a wide range of research-informed literature, including sources retrieved independently. Selection of relevant and credible sources. Very good use of referencing, with no/very few inaccuracies or inconsistencies.	Engagement with an extensive range of relevant and credible literature, informed by the latest research. Consistently accurate application of referencing.	Exceptional engagement with an extensive range of relevant and credible literature, informed by the latest research. High-level referencing skills consistently and professionally applied.
