

LCBB4002 - Community Engagement Assignment 2 – Reflective Report

S/N	Description	Word Count Guide
1	Introduction Brief and concise definition of reflection and reflective practice. You may relate this to reflective practice in community engagement. Explain briefly what you intend to discuss (and its importance) in the rest of the report.	200
2	With the use of at least one theoretical model of reflection, discuss the nature and purpose of reflective practice in the context of community engagement. This may include reflection of your community engagement experience/learning using Gibbs reflection model. Briefly discuss the significance of reflective practice you may link this to e.g., action plan. The sixth element of Gibbs reflective model (If you use Gibbs reflective model). Examples of reflective models you can use: Gibbs reflection model, Kolb's experiential learning theory, bloom's taxonomy learning and Boud, Cohen and Walker experience-based	550
3	Detailed reflection of your personal experience/ various skills and competences learnt/gained while learning on this module. This may include interpersonal skills and/or effective self-management	550
4	Reflect on the relationship between academic theories and your experience(s) in creatively solving problem(s) during the term and/or in the workplace. You can use theories like Maslow theory of motivation, quality standard model, theory of change, and project management concepts. Relate these theories to your experience(s) and reflect on some of the case studies/videos you have watched during lectures. Discuss how problems are solved creatively in community engagement setting and or in your workplace.	550
5	Conclusion Sum up key highlights of what you have discussed and reiterate the importance of reflective practice including key theories and practices, and importance of skills and competences in community engagement.	150

Important Information:

Minimum of 8 references expected. You must use Harvard style of referencing in your work.

Expected word count 2000 $\pm$ 10%