The Fabric

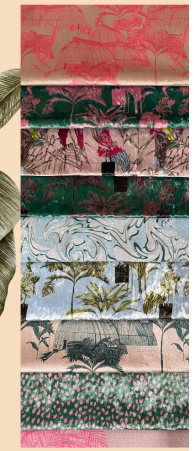

I am always drawn to the weird and wonderful objects that can be found in the environment around me. I love nothing more than a snoop around a period property filled to the brim with all sorts of gems and trinkets, or a wonder through the natural history museum. Once I feel drawn to an object, I transport it to my dream world in order to create a narrative which will inform and blossom in my prints. I love to combine aspects of all of the things I love in order to make it quirky and unique, a cheetahs spot to replace a strawberry seed, or a beautiful heron clad in a luxe jacket and handbag. These playful combinations can be seen throughout so many of my designs if you look out for them!

ANTIQUITIES AND CURIOUSITIES

NATURE

A key part of the design process is going out into nature and deriving all of the interesting and beautiful natural forms which I can find in order to enrich and nurture the growth of a pattern. Natures textures and colour palettes are unmatched in their richness and detail and therefore it is these layers of detail which really inform my work.

THE INSPIRATION

Our wallcoverings are all printed in England and all inspired by the natural world or objects that we felt drawn to on our adventures. Our aim is to create a space which allows a home to feel exciting, thought provoking and uplifitng.
