Questions

My Intended Career – What I want to do?

- I aspire to be a youth worker.
- I want to help young people to reach their full potential.
- Develop their social, educational and personal skills.
- Challenging but fulfilling career.

SWOT ANALYSIS

- Strengths – Self motivated, active listening and non judgmental approach, analytical thinking skills
- Weaknesses – Perfectionist approach, do not yet possess necessary qualifications
- Opportunities – career progression, courses available on the job, my current HNC course
- Threats – candidates who possess the same or better skillset than me.

Personal Development Plan

- Complete higher national certificate qualification in Health & Social Care to a good standard.
- Progress to doing the higher national diploma.
- Do a top up degree in National Youth Agency.
- Could look for relevant part time work or volunteer work whilst completing my studies – this will build up my experience and make me look more attractive to future employers.
- Find a full time job in youth work.

Time Management

- Helps prioritize wisely – crucial for my intended career
- If I can stay on top of my to-do list and create a healthy balance in life, then I can feel worthy of helping other people with theirs, which is what I want to do in life. Helping others gives me tremendous satisfaction, and if I can keep my life on track, then I can point others in the right direction too!
- For me, the number one benefit of good time management is less stress. With less stress in my life, I don't feel overwhelmed and anxious. Instead, I feel more productive and confident to face the many tasks life throws at me.

Summary

- Feeling happy with the path I am on.
- Doing my HNC I have a clear idea of what I want to do in the future.
- I feel I am spending my time well.
- This course is giving me a great base knowledge.
- I am able to manage my time well as well as keep on top of my work.
