Development and changes

Knowing your Character fully is important-

What is their name?

What were they like as a child?

What food do they like?

What music do they listen to?

What is their favourite film?

Who are their friends?

Etc.

Try to answer these questions about your character

Model makers create detailed 3D characters in order for the animators to understand the figure from every angle.

You can develop expression sheets or 3D models to fully understand your character.

Facial expressions

- Work to produce-

Select an animal based on your first letter of your first name

Select an occupation based on the first letter of your last name

Select an emotion based on the last meme you viewed (Angry, confused, fear, surprise, disgust, pride, excitement, anxiety, awkwardness, boredom, confusion, excited, romantic etc)

Research into the animal and images of the occupation

Create some rough visual design

Create a 'Turnaround' sheet, Front, side, back views

Develop some facial expression drawings

Name your character

A short paragraph on your character likes/ dislikes etc.
