Lecturer name Akash punanik

Introduction [100 words] in the introduction i felt very welcomed and also witnessed great experiences for example people coming in at classes and just sharing information about the university like library and etc. Mr. Akash was really great and also making me understand the topic that we was learning of in that time easy also i felt that my classmates really are determined if trying they hardest

Description of experience [200 words]

Description 1 smart goals i learned about smart goals as first did not really think its useful but as the lesson went on i understand it more and as it got to the end i have understood the reason of a smart goal and how useful it can be throughout my time studying here and makes my academic journey a lot more easier and also helps me prioritizes my time at home and at school throughout my whole academic journey

Description 2 mind mapping this is similar to smart goals but mind mapping but its different or unique and its own diagram helps me visually organize stuff which makes it easier for me to see anytime i needed any information on that day or just any other time and its really effective for my future as its really useful and just overall helps me organize my stuff and just gives a better image in my opinion

Analysis and personal reflection [600 words]

Overall of my experience in this couple months was really great i have not thought to learn this much and also understand the topics at a point where its just so much more useful in my academic journey and also helps me prioritize things and also just makes it more easier throughout this journey on of the topic was just smart goals i feel like this was the most useful part on my opinion as this really just opened my mind up and just helps me not stress or do multiple stuff at a same time and just helps me focus on one thing at a time and still manage to complete everything for that week which makes me proud joyfull and also really relieved and just not struggle to trying to keep up with everything

And also creating a schedule and minimize my distractions for example revising is important so that a must do work that an urgent clean my car not so important this also realluy helped me in a lot of stuff throughout the couple months i felt very welcomed in the class by the people im sourended by makes me feel happy or even safe and helped me make new friends

A other topic i really enjoyed and helped me is for example outline methods where there were really useful for example Cornell methods summary of each page key points these are really helpful of me writing and just helps me achieve more

There were a couple lessons i have missed which makes me annoyed where i could really understand of what it is really as i did go through online but it just not the same way were I'm participating in the lesson and this just makes me understand everything more clearly

Week 4 where we learned about referencing and also academic misconduct where this was the first time where i could really test my knowledge of how much i could learn and remember where we did a mock test i thought it went great as there were some questions that i was not sure if but it still boosted my confidence that i know and everything i have done was worth it and managed to understand stuff nd the ones were i was not sure of made me go over the lessons that i was not sure of and just went over the lessons again

I overall feel proud of what i achieved from learning all the topics i learned and the future ones also and also just coming in and making me get the best out of my self and knowing i tried my hardest i feel disappointed where i did not manage to understand certain topic very well but i still got of a small understanding of how it reflects

Also refrencing in my work was really useful as it helped me by doing an reference list for example highlighting and referencing a book [one author] green surname comma initial full stop this helped me improve my referencing more and make it more academical writing also learned about academic misconduct where i did not really felt the need for me to use t

Conclusion [100 words]

Overall in this last couple months i felt very proud of what i have archived so far and also what I'm going to be achieving in the future this course really helps me get a boost of understanding about stuff and not just about business but also about my personal life of organize my time schedule i felt very welcomed by my classmates and also by my teachers and helped me make new friends here and also a great place for me to continue my study as i got everything i could need in this place so overall I'm really happy and would want for my future to be a bit more challenging

Reference list [must be in Harvard style] you can have this on a separate page
