

BMHP6026

Assignment 1: Academic poster presentation

1

What is an academic poster presentation?

Verbally presenting your research from w/c 21 Oct.

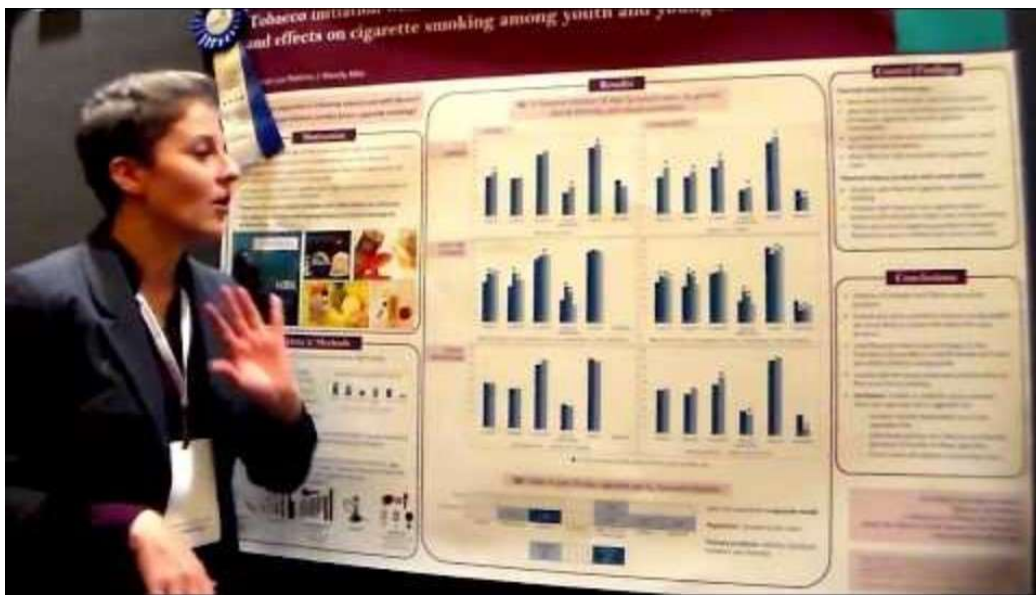

- 10 minutes presentation followed by 5 minutes Q&A

Using a digital poster to support your presentation (21 Oct by 2 pm)

Academic poster presentation

2

You will have 10 minutes to talk about your chosen mental health disorder on your poster. This will be followed by 5 minutes Q&A from your audience. Instead of a printed poster, you will have your poster on the TV screen.

3

Who are your audience at the presentation?

Your target audience are students in Higher Education including undergraduate and postgraduate levels

The poster and your presentation have to be presented professionally to meet the academic standards.

4

What is your poster presentation about?

Critically examining the historical and contemporary treatment and provision of care surrounding your chosen mental health disorder

- Choose a mental health disorder from chapter 6 of the ICD-11
- Discuss with your tutor if you wish to choose a mental disorder outside of the module topics,
- You need to choose a different mental disorder for your report (assignment 2)

5

What to include in the presentation?

Evaluation of social, cultural and political contexts that have shaped the treatment of your chosen disorder

- Both historical changes in terms of attitudes and policies and the current framework should be considered
- Exploration of how these factors impact on practices

Critical analysis of issues related to stigma, discrimination and inequality

Reasoned recommendations for future policy and/or practice

It is not possible to fit discussion on all these points into one poster. You need to present them verbally using the key points presented on the poster as a visual guide.

6

Constructing a conference poster

Use existing free templates for your poster. Some free links will be available in the assessment tile on Moodle

Make sure you use the landscape setting, not the portrait

Your poster should be visually appealing, informative and succinct

- use headings and concise text to structure your key points so your audience will find your verbal presentation easy to follow

More activities in poster construction and practice presentation to follow

7

8

Engagement with Literature Skills 20 points	Knowledge and Understanding Skills 15 points	Cognitive and Intellectual Skills 25 points	Practical Application Skills 25 points	Transferable Skills for Life and Professional Practice 15 points
Thorough literature review	In-depth knowledge and understanding shown on poster and in presentation	Critically analyse the support and treatment used for their chosen condition historically and contemporarily	Focused analysis of the chosen condition	Poster is presented visually proficiently
At least 10 academic and credible references		Evaluate the reasoning behind treatment choices, developments in the management of this condition and potential future directions	Link theory to practice	The text is proofread and presented academically and professionally
Citations and references in Harvard style	Able to field questions using evidence in Q&A		Evaluate real-world methods, tools and techniques used
			Consider limitations of historical methods and potential issues within modern	Interact with the audience in a professional manner

9

What next?

Engage in reading around the topics and learning activities covered in weekly sessions

Start researching the literature and decide on a mental health disorder from Chapter 6 of the ICD-11

How do you start the literature research?

10

Identify keywords on the list.

Evaluation of social, cultural and political contexts that have shaped the treatment of your chosen disorder

- Both historical changes in terms of attitudes and policies and the current framework should be considered
- Exploration of how these factors impact on practices

Critical analysis of issues related to stigma, discrimination and inequality

Reasoned recommendations for future policy and/or practice

