EDUCATION

Product design BSc

2017 - 2020

UNIVERSITY OF WALES TRINITY ST DAVID

I personally loved my time at university as I was able to indulge in my passion for furniture design and consumer product design. While there I also was able to develop a strong understanding of the product design industry and the skills required to design and develop a product from idea conception right through to sales and marketing strategies. As a result of my time studying product design I am now comfortable demonstrating practical skills such as physical prototyping, sewing/upholstery, 3D CAD modeling, design generation as well as professional practice. During my third year, while working on a competitive project with a local healthcare business, my final design was chosen to further develop by the client and was later prototyped.

A-levels

2015 - 2017

BRYNTEG COMPREHENSIVE

While attending Brynteg Comprehensive I achieved 3 A-levels: Advanced mechanical mathematics, History and Design Technology.
