

My Reflective writing How do I feel studying at UWTSD (University of Wales Trinity Saint David London) By Spasimira Lyubomirova Dzhoneva Student ID:2027241 Module name: Academic and Employability skills

I joined this institution because I wanted to continue with my studies, which I kind of left on a side for a while a friend of mine recommended this university to me and after I did careful research about the different courses, I finally made my choice. The course I choose is mainly focus on business which is something I am extremely passionate about because one day I would like to open my very own business related to the beauty and makeup sphere, even though I have sort of an idea based on my retail experience my knowledge is very minimal so I believe I will learn a lot of useful information which will help me for my future career plan. Based on all the information and all the research I did I think I made the right decision to study at this university not only the possibilities are endless with all the different courses and specialist spheres they offer but, the flexibility as well so that was one of the main reasons why I choose this institution because it's the perfect balance between my job and my studies at the same time, and especially when I met the tutors, I was confident that I will do excellent in my academic life. I always believed that education is important and it could open many doors for personal and for career development, for me I take this chance for both personal and career growth. Personal prosperity for me would be to graduate successfully and finish with all my studies for me that itself is an accomplishment, the career growth is to open my very own business and this would be my biggest achievement that I reflect on every day. One day at class we had this task to share what are the three achievements currently in our life that we are proud of and I remember sharing that mine were continuing with my studies exploring the makeup industry and starting a job as a manager of a very prestige cosmetic brand and last but currently not the least important is having the actual courage to not give up on my future plan to be successful one day. The success is not the only reason that motivates me to study but also the idea of personal efficiency to own a degree which will going to help me and motivated more for even bigger achievements in my career. In of the Benjamin Franklin books called the way to wealth, money and success he says: "An investment in knowledge always pays the best interest". I strongly believe in these words because is not only paying back with interest but also with intellectual knowledge which is priceless. That is why after finishing with my current studies I have decided to continue with my education and sing in Business and Law course for my next degree. I have always been into business and management but this time I want to do something different and in other words maybe a bit challenging for myself law is about memorizing and I think this one of my strong skills a long with strong communication and etc. When I took this decision a lot of my friends and family were really confuse because this choice of mine has nothing to do with makeup or beauty either and I realise that myself but my idea is one day to have my own business and this is sort of connected to law because when you managing your business, you need to be aware of your rights which is extremally important part of owning enterprise or even a small company, therefore in order to be successful you need to be very well informed of this part to maintain the business in the right way. This is why I choice to study business and law because I want to be able to maintain my own business and learn how to make important decisions based on my knowledge for my rights in the industry and not only that but I believe this would be a long-term beneficial experience for me in life and in my career. Ones I finish with my studies at university I always wanted to learn another language to speak expect English and my mother language Bulgarian I would like to learn Spanish as this is one of my favourite countries I visited and I felt in love with also their culture is just incredible, in future I am definitely considering to learn another language as well, French has also been one of the them I like. At the moment of course I am focus on what I am doing now because the future is quiet far for me, I just know what I would like to do and I am doing my best for that to happen so by one of the big steps is exactly continuing with my education and getting the most of it so one day I will complete my goals. The self-promoting is also I thing I would like to work on and develop more as it is a very important for any type of business to attract more clients or more investors you need have the aviability for promoting your work and ways to earn more and invest more so that you have benefits and profit of your work I believe that by choosing business this is one of the things that I will learn to do and it would be useful in future when I have my own company. Everyone has a motivation something that keeps them going and waning to be successful mine is the benefits of living in London and all the possibilities and things you can develop into and personally that makes me feel that I can achieve everything and more of course it takes time but it is normal in order something good to happen. There are many examples of people who failed many times but they never stop chasing what they believe success for them is and for example: Jeff Bezos founder and creator of the giant shopping in the world Amazon he started his journey by selling books from his garage and right now he is the richest man in world with net worth of 188.00 billion dollars this a perfect example of how a lot of nights of hard work and chasing a goal can make a massive impact on your life. The biggest part of this is to figure out what exactly you want and just make a simple plan on how things should go even if you fail that doesn't mean you give up you just keep trying until success even if that means to fail many times because in order to be successful you need to be prepared to fail. Personally, I am not scared from failing because we all have these kinds of moments in our life's and we just have move on and learn to improve and insure we do better job in furure so we don't allow mistakes that often.

A not long ago I had exam assessment where I had to write my own thoughts about how I feel studying at this university but unfortunately, I didn't pass and then I got angry at myself because I knew I could do better, writing is something I love and I failed but then instead of getting even more angry I seat down I calmed myself and I said it's fine I will just re-write it again that's not the end and so then I actually was given another chance to improve my work and do better job, because this is really important to me I started this journey with just an idea I wasn't sure what to expect, the whole thing is just brand new to me and to be honest I was scared at first but now I have clear goals in my head plan that I follow every step of the way and I can only hope great things will come a long. I also have support that I always be thankful about which comes from my family my friends and my man next to me who probably believes in me more than I do in myself, and this is the very important part of the success if you don't believe in yourself that you can nothing else will help you succeed, that is the first and main rule to have a faith in yourself first and then somebody else will also have faith in you so that wheel starts spins. Fighting every day is the key for the dreams to become reality and if we as a humas stop that there guarantee we will fail and of course sometimes things just don't work no matter what we do they just don't but in my opinion this not an excuse for us to stop fighting it should be a motivation to move forward with something else with something that we believe will bring us the things we want and not only is going to make us happier but even pounder from what we achieved. I know for fact is not easy but we can't be stuck at just one place, I never give up on me I never for one day quit thinking about my future and what I want to do and every single day I am fating about it I started my journey with continuing with my studies and to prove and make myself pound from the person I am about to become one day. In conclusion I will say that is not easy and is not going to be easy but the very important thing to remember is quitting your dreams and your goals is not going to make you happy and this shouldn't be an option at first place. The only person who should believe in you more than your friend's family etc is you the only person who is going to make it happen is you and no one else and if you give up that's it you stuck at that one place, and if it doesn't work even after the fifth time or the tenth time that doesn't mean to not move on forward and keep trying until you got it. Because is always better to say I tried and I failed than I didn't try because you would never know if you be successful. That is why never stop dreaming never stop fitting and believe in yourself because no one else will if you don't start fist. To my future self and now I would like to say thank you for not letting fear takes your way thank you for not giving up on dreams even when everybody didn't believe in you thank you for deciding to build that better future which is about to come with all the hard work which you putting on for that to happen thank you for not giving up on you and keep believing in you be thankful for everything and all the support from your friends and family and especially your person next to you who healed your hand from the first day of your journey with university and who is keep supporting with everything you do and believe in. In guess what I am trying to say everything is possible it just depends how much you wanted to happened and how much effort you putting into it so that it becomes reality, believe in yourself never give up and keep trying until success. Because as Mahatma Gandhi (1869-1946) says : "Be the change that you wish to see in the world" so in order to see change or a movement the first thing you need to do is start with yourself fist so you will see change
