Who I am

- I am a 55 years single mum of three already grow up children
- I am Italian and I live in London since 2016 , five years now
- I am a self-employed care assistant, working with elderly people in their own home

What I'm doing now?

I am in this course to achieve a higher education level and improve my knowledges in Health and Social Care

I'm providing home care service to two clients and it takes me the most of my daily routine

My Personal SWOT Analyses

STRENGTHS • Passion in what I like to do • Positive attitude • Sense of responsibility	WEAKNESSES • Limited education • Limited technical knowledges • Effective time managing between learning, working, and take care of the family
OPPORTUNITIES • Enhancing education • Support in learning from lecturers and University staff	THREATS • Lack in concentration • Difficulty in following more than one thing at a time

How would I like to develop my career?

I am actually very proud and happy on what I'm doing, I really love my job and the people I'm working with

But I think that in the future, it could become difficult and too heavy for me (remember my age) on my own

One of my dreams is to be able to create and manage a corporation of carers where we can help each other with the continuous evolving needs of the clients

My goal

Create and manage my own
Company
In domiciliary care

I am at the bottom of the ladder now

Which steps to reach the top?

- First step is to complete this course
- Use all the tools given to improve my skills
- Evaluate all the other employability opportunities offered
