Comments:

This annotated bibliography displays a good understanding of the selected texts with a clear, coherent & appropriate structure which works well with the assignment task. The work engages with the relevant theories, arguments & positions, & draws on the work of secondary reading to develop an argument. However, the 'evaluation' sections could be more developed with more attention to the detail of the arguments at stake.

Also, try to avoid posing questions as criticisms; always rephrase the question into a criticism & then evaluation.
Overall, though, this is a well-written piece of work that shows a close engagement with the reading material.
