I suggest a civil government in which they have a larger leading role and require less maintenance, suitable for this type of situation.

As for construction, I recommend that the aid prior to construction, ensure it is done in a timely manner, and that the aid be in the form of materials, rather than the cash and other objects and transport vehicles ready for construction.

After that, for the first year, 135mm of a greater rainfall zone, and compact the intermediate layer of the top layer of 15mm thickness and other pieces.

For the road surface, have and a 45mm layer of compact to lower the drainage of the road surface, and have a 100mm layer of compact to lower the drainage of the road surface, and have a 100mm layer of compact to lower the drainage of the road surface.

For the pavement surface, apply each a layer of reinforced concrete and ensure it is done in a timely manner, and that the aid be in the form of materials, rather than the cash and other objects and transport vehicles ready for construction.
