OCTOBER 2019

NO. 520

ALBUMS/ALBUM EQUIVALENT SALES

Album Equivalent Sales (AES) rose by 9.3% in October. Album purchases fell by 24.1%, with compilation sales down by a third (-33.8%) and artist albums decreasing by over a fifth (-22.3%). Vinyl LP increased by an impressive 13.1%, the biggest year-on-year rise of 2019 so far.

Fewer than 1.4m CDs were sold across the four weeks of the month, with 484,552 albums downloaded. Among the most high-profile album releases of the month were new titles from D-Block Europe, Elbow, Foals and Dermot Gallagher, along with the reissue of The Beatles' classic Abbey Road.

SINGLES/STREAMS

Over 2.3bn weekly audio streams were recorded for the first time in October, and the total for the month was up by 24.3%. more than 92bn plays on audio streaming services have been measured so far by the Official Charts Company in 2019, an increase of 26.2% on the January to October period in 2018.

Under 2.7m singles/tracks were purchased in October, a decrease of 29.7% on the same period in 2018 and the sharpest drop of the year so far. Tones and I's Dance Monkey was both the most-streamed and purchased track of the month.

ALBUM EQUIVALENT SALES

ALBUM EQUIVALENT SALES

Following the introduction in July 2018 of video streams into the Official Singles Chart, and the accompanying differing weighting of plays from ad-supported and premium streaming services, BPI will be reflecting these developments in the Album Equivalent Sales (AES) market measurement.

In order to maintain a like-for-like measure comparable with previous years, the standard AES metric will continue to be presented. Under this measure, physical album and digital album sales data are included as per the Official Charts Company database, but the cumulative total for individual track sales is divided by 10 (to provide a 'Track Equivalent Album' (TEA) figure). The audio streaming total is divided by 1,000 (as 100 streams=one track sale and 10 track sales=one album) to provide a Stream Equivalent Albums (SEA) figure.

We are also including 'New SEA' and 'New AES' data (see grey figures, top right). These reflect both the inclusion of video data and a weighting for ad-supported (6,000 streams=one album sale) and premium track streams (1,000=one album sale). These weightings apply to both audio and video streams. When comparable full-year data is available this New AES measure will become the primary metric used. From July 2019 onwards a year-on-year comparison can be made on a monthly basis for video streams.

COMPILATIONS/ARTIST ALBUMS

COMPILATIONS

Compilation sales shrank by more than a third in October, the sixth consecutive month that year-on year sales have fallen by more than 33%. It is now 17 months (June 2018) since the compilations market outperformed artist albums in terms of year-on-year changes in sales. Only one compilation featured in the top 40 monthly albums chart - Now 103 at position 15.

ARTIST ALBUMS

The Beatles' Abbey Road was the most-purchased artist album of the month. The fiftieth anniversary edition of their final studio album sold almost 54,000 copies across digital and physical formats in October. The different deluxe vinyl and CD editions were hugely popular with collectors and, together with single disc counterparts, physical accounted for 87.7% of the title's chart-eligible sales in October. Elbow's Giants Of All Sizes was the second most-purchased title, with Liam Gallagher's Why Me? Why Not ranked third. Foals' Everything Not Saved Will Be Lost Pt 2 was a big vinyl seller, with LP accounting for more than one in three of its purchases.

IV ANALYSIS/UPDATES INDEPENDENTS

OCTOBER 2019 11

ALTER BRIDGE TOP IN OCTOBER

Walk The Sky by US rockers Alter Bridge was the number one independent album in October, despite only being available for the final week of the month. It gave the band their fourth UK top 10 album (it reached number four) with week one sales of more than 10,000 copies.

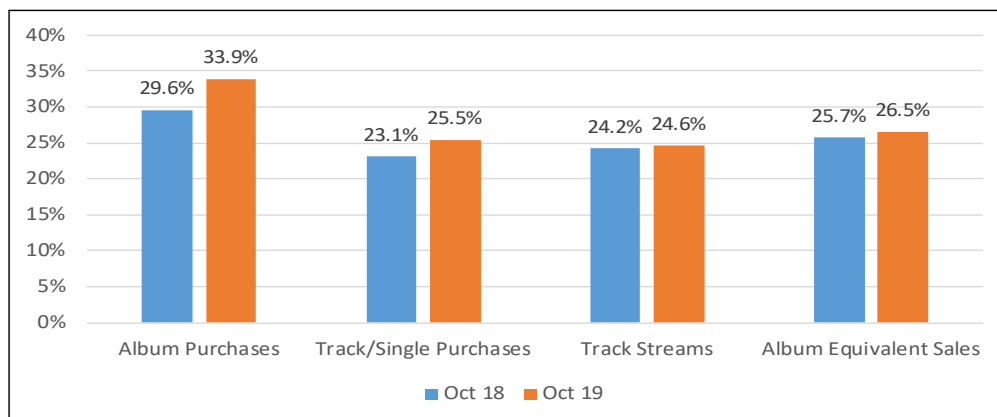

Other independent releases making a chart impression in the month included top 10 entries for Simple Minds, Daniel O'Donnell and The Darkness - Easter Is Cancelled, the band's sixth studio album, was their fourth to crack the top 10.

For the fourth consecutive month, AJ Tracey's Ladbroke Grove was the most popular independently-released track. Its chart eligible sales have now passed 800,000 and in October its weekly sales averaged 33,000, though had slipped to less than 27,000 in week 43. The British rapper also featured on two other songs in the top 15 of the month (Thiago Silva with Dave and Butterflies with Not3s).
