

Useful information to support your study

Moodle

Access Moodle via UWTSD website, quick links and click on Moodle. Follow instructions for first time here and you will have access to the modules you are studying (only the modules you are studying). Click on My Course and your course will come up.

On your Course pages you will find your Module Study Handbook which contains information about the module descriptor, marking criteria and mark sheets, and useful guidance on assessment. Please read this carefully and use it as a reference resource to help you to complete your assignment.

You will also find sections with information, advice and guidance to help you to develop your study skills, including how to avoid plagiarism, how to reference, and how to write assignments. Copies of the slides and learning materials used in your taught sessions are available too

A wide range of more generic resources are accessible to you on the Learner Zone page.

Don't forget, tutors are here to help too, as are Student Services staff.

Learning Resources Centre (LRC)

You will be able to access library and learning resources by clicking on library and learning resources, and then clicking catalogue.

To use the catalogue:

In search box, type in book title/author/words (for on-line resources leave "Everything" in the drop-down box. For campus resources select as appropriate from drop-down box.)

Follow instructions to log-in. All log-ins can be done on-line including renewals.

Simple searches can be done with partial book titles.

You can refine your search

It is possible to conduct more advanced searches where you have more details.

Student services

Student services can be found under quick links, professional services and student services. There is a range of services that you can access including study skills support and learning support. Contact details are provided.
