Concept

Lumine is a short story about a girl named Sarah, a fallen star and greed/selfishness.

'A woman named Sarah is walking at night up a mountain and sees a shooting star, the star starts to fall to the ground. She runs to where the star fell, kneels down and takes a closer look. It looks damaged, so she picks it up and carries it home. She wraps it up and heals it back to health.

They spend a lot of time together and become friends. One day, she wishes for the dishes to be done and it comes true, she looks over to the star and it's shining. Weeks pass, she keeps making wishes, and they're coming true. She gets greedy, every day the star gets dimmer, running out of energy. Sarah eventually realises and tried to fix the star. She wraps it up, buys 'star dust' from a store, darkens a room and uses sticky stars on the ceiling, but nothing works.

The stars outside her home are too dim so she takes the star back up to the mountain where she found it and the star starts to shine again. She holds the star up and releases it into the sky, the star shoots up into the night sky. As Sarah is walking home, the star twinkles in the sky.'

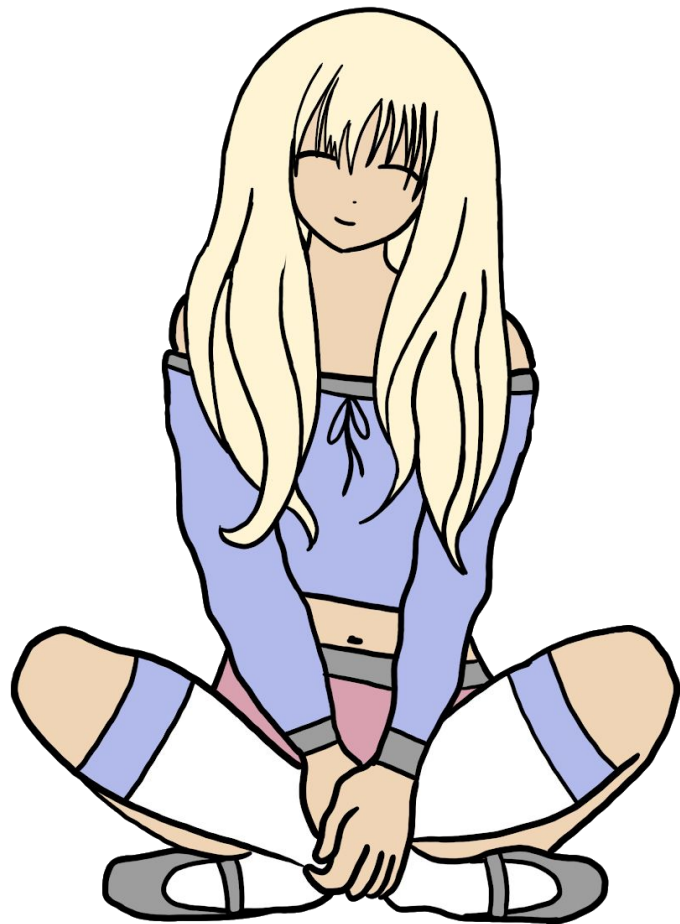

This animation is digital 3D and stylized.

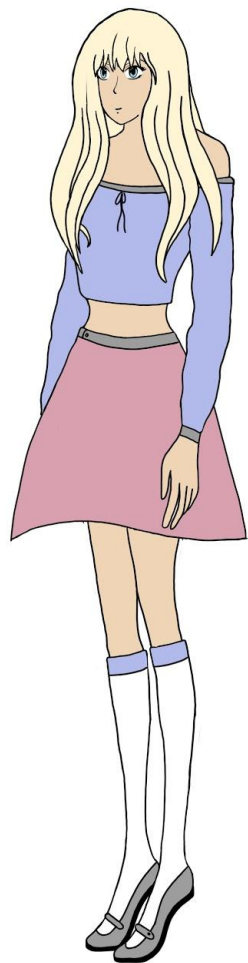

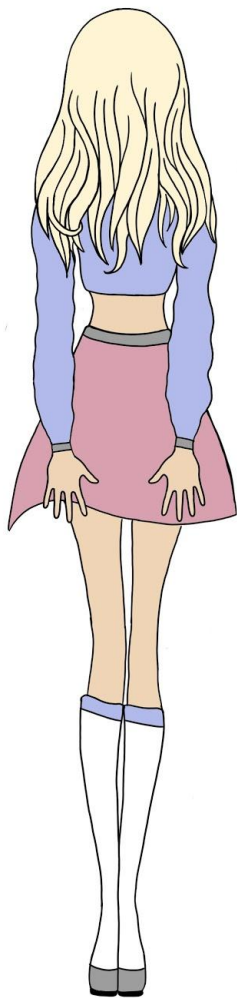

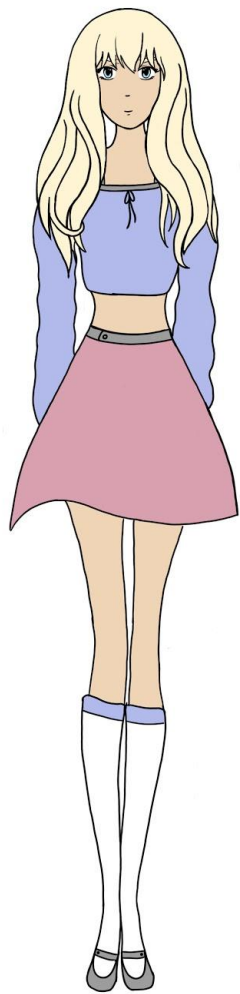

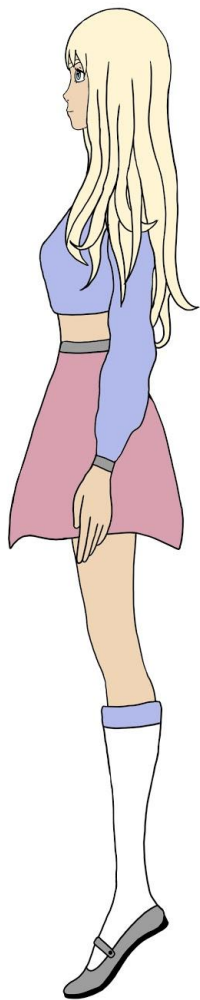

The tone of the animation is fun, upbeat and cute.

The target audience is 15-25.

Sarah

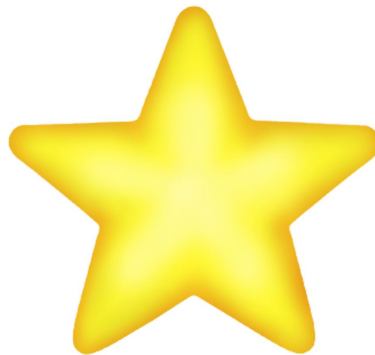

Sarah is the only real character in the story. She lives alone and is quite lonely. She had a husband in the past and they were going to have a baby, but she miscarried and he left as he couldn't move past the loss of their child. This is why she grows an attachment to the star so quickly, and why she has a moses basket in her bedroom, because she sees the star as the child she never had and tries to care for it as such.

Star

The star has two forms; one is whole and shining, the other has one of its points broken off from falling.

Background/Locations

There are four main locations in the animation; the Mountains, the Kitchen, the Bedroom and the Garden.

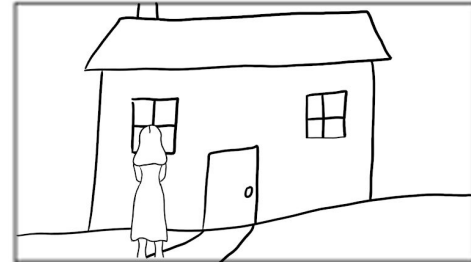

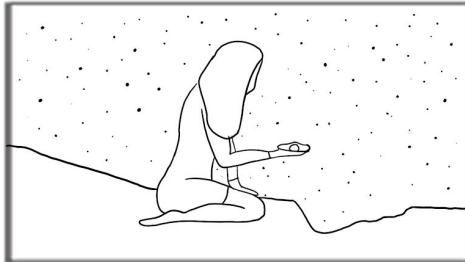

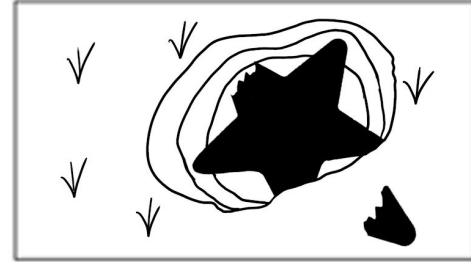

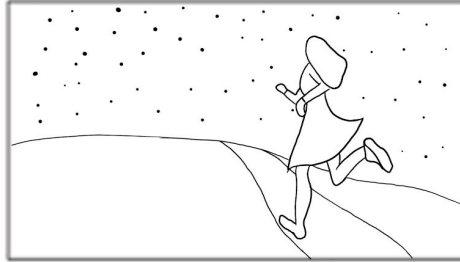

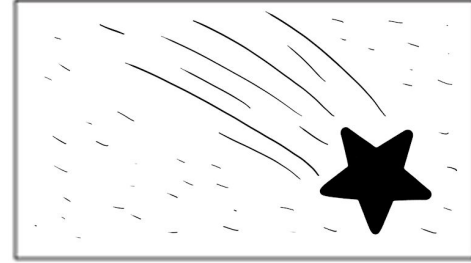

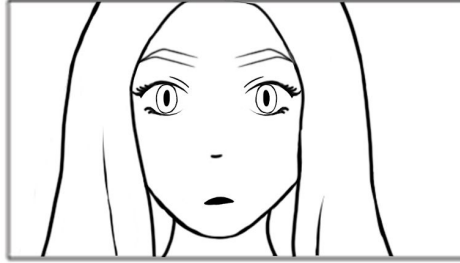

The Mountains are seen at night, the sky is filled with stars. There are some trees but the environment is quite sparse, there are no other people around.

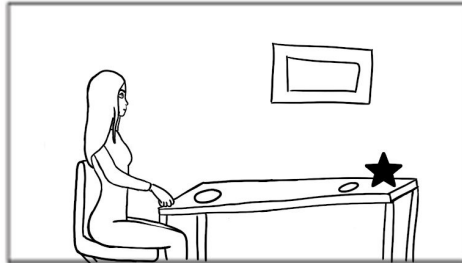

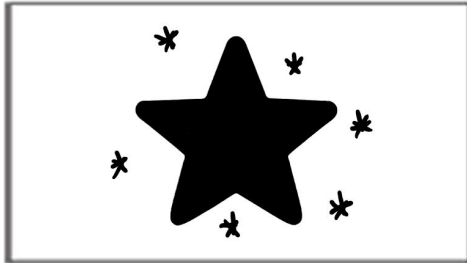

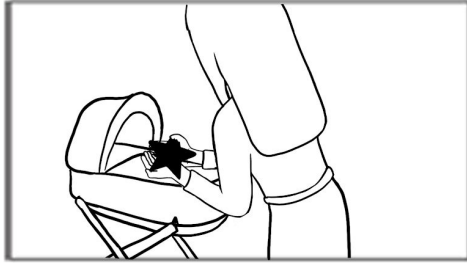

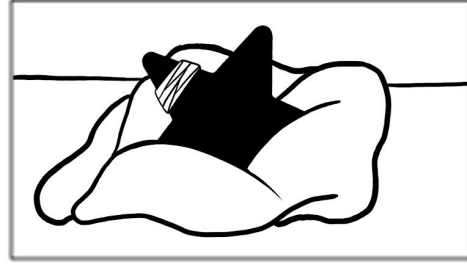

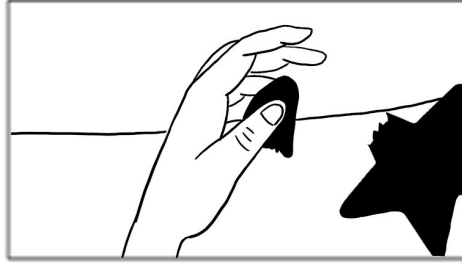

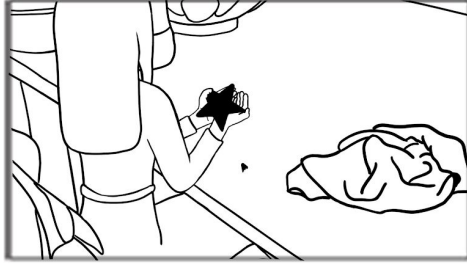

The Kitchen is simple, it has a dining table and two chairs. She still has a picture of her ex-husband on a corner table.

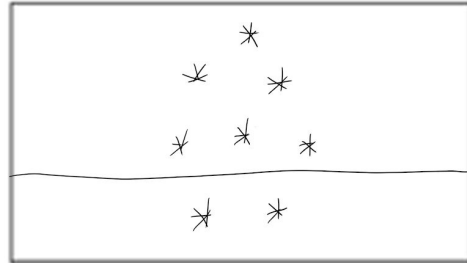

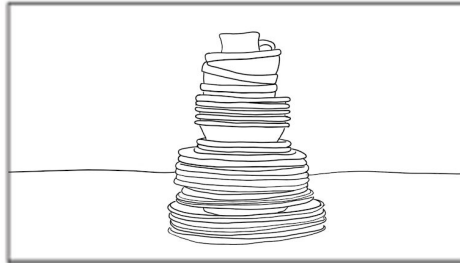

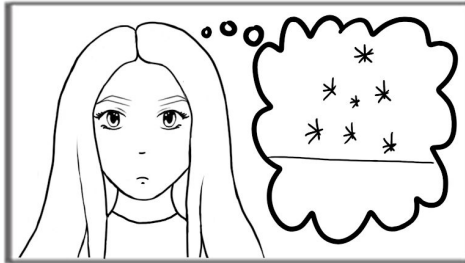

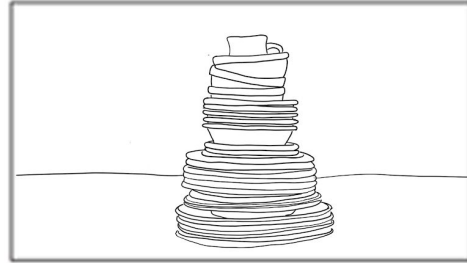

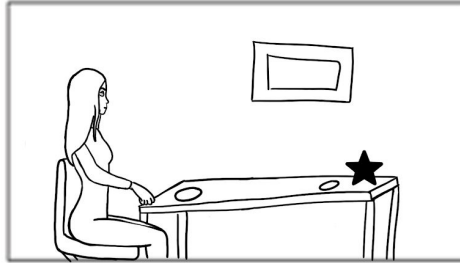

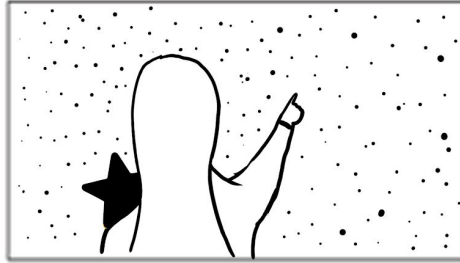

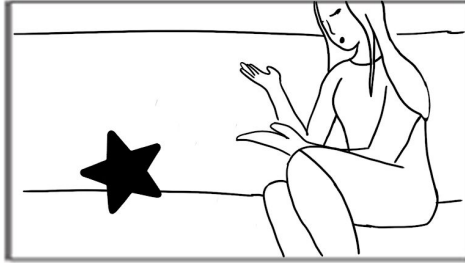

The Bedroom contains a double bed, night stand, wardrobe and a moses basket which the star sleeps in.

The garden is out the front of the house, there is a path leading up to the door. There is a swing set to the left side of the path.
