Age, gender, race, geographic location (regional, country, and international), and platforms (Spotify, Apple Music, Deezer, Tidal, etc.). We can also compare Molow to other similar artists and use data from those artists to target their audience in social media ad campaigns.

Audience - Top Countries

OUR STRATEGY

2. Music

We use Submithub's "Hot or Not" feature to get the song rated by other artists and casual listeners and make sure we are releasing a track that has a chance of blowing up. We also use the data to identify who is rating the song (age, gender) and where (geographic location) the positive ratings are coming from.

OUR STRATEGY

3. Pricing

In the pre-order/save phase, we price the track slightly more attractive on platforms such as iTunes, Beatport, and Traxsource. Increased downloads in the pre-order/save phase will help push the track into the charts from day 1. We know from experience that DJs are more likely to buy a track that hits the charts. Molow's music is DJ music. The more DJs that play Molow's track, the more exposure we get with end-consumers and Shazams. The number of Shazams plays a vital role in editorial playlisting.

OUR STRATEGY

4. Placement – Reaching Our Audience

We have taken steps to identify, engage, and expose listeners to Molow’s music, leading to fan acquisition and accumulation. Understanding our audience provides the information required for appropriate product placement and efficient promotion. This includes how they consume music, their spending habits, where they spend their time online, and where they live geographically.

Learning where they live helps us to plan Molow’s tour. Understanding how Molow’s audience consumes music tells us whether we should release their music on Spotify, iTunes, Tidal, Deezer, Beatport, and Traxsource, offering one of the platforms exclusivity (2-4 weeks). Learning their Internet behaviours suggests which social media networks would be most receptive to our promotional efforts. It's all about promoting Molow in the most efficient way possible with available resources.

OUR STRATEGY

5. Promotion

5.1. Website

Our priority is to fix Molow’s website and ensure all links and buttons are working fine. Creating a website provides a foundation for everything we do online to promote Molow’s music. From a website, we can sell music, make forums, list tour dates and appearances, and link to all their social media accounts. From there, we move on to SEO optimisation.

OUR STRATEGY

Promotion

5.2. Soundcloud and MixCloud

Our swat analytics identified that Molow is particularly weak on Soundcloud and MixCloud. As “DJ music” artists, it is vital to have a strong presence on these platforms. Beatport and Traxsource also look at Soundcloud accounts when deciding if and how to feature an artist’s release. We’ll run a few Instagram and TikTok ad campaigns offering free downloads to previous releases or unreleased tracks via a FeatureFM landing page. We’ll also have a snippet of the upcoming release on SoundCloud with the pre-order/save SmartLink. The SmartLink has pre-save links to Spotify, Apple Music, Deezer, Tidal, Beatport and Traxsource.

OUR STRATEGY

Promotion

5.3. Tour and Appearances

We know that Molow does exceptionally well at live events. They know how to rock a crowd. We'll headline Molow at our events in London, Malta, Ibiza, Marbella, and Mykonos in the pre-and post-release phase. Every ticket, physical and online, will have a QR code to Molow's release Smartlink. All giveaway merch at the events will, in an original or imaginative way, direct the audience to Molow's release.

OUR STRATEGY

Promotion

5.4 YouTube

We utilise YouTube to feature Molow’s sets and behind the scenes at our events. We also create press-worthy videos and campaigns. We use the video description to link to their website, and social media channels and where they can pre-save/order the upcoming release or stream/download post-release via their FeatureFM SmartLink. We run paid YouTube ad campaigns to promote the videos.

OUR STRATEGY

CREATE PRESS-WORTHY CONTENT

Molow Live Set from The Top of Tower Bridge

OUR STRATEGY

Promotion

5.5 Email Marketing

Every paid social media ad will point towards Molow's FeatureFM SmartLink. Every click to the FeatureFM landing page will direct the viewer to Molow's email subscribe list. Fans need to know about upcoming shows, new music releases, specials on band merch, new press features, and anything else we really need to share with them right now. Email connects us directly with Molow's audience more efficiently than social media.

OUR STRATEGY

Promotion

5.6. Streaming Services

We make sure Molow's Spotify Artist page is up to date with the latest images, and we'll use a banner image to promote their upcoming release. We'll also post tour dates and merch on their artist page.

We'll also create artist playlists for various moods (party, chill out etc.). Creating playlists garners more views because we can use similar and established artists in the list and place Molow's own among them.

We'll run Instagram stories ad campaigns to promote the artist's playlists. We know from experience how effective and easy it is to gain followers for playlists. An added benefit is also that it increases the artist's Instagram following.

We pitch the release to Spotify's editorial playlist curators with a story that will most likely connect emotionally with the curator. We'll also add a link to our detailed marketing plan timeline.

We pay prominent established playlist curators to place Molow's release in their playlists.

We will feature the release on our curated playlists. These playlists are advertised via paid social media ads all year round and have a high engagement rate. The track will also be featured on partner curators playlists. We swap tracks with other label curators every Friday.

OUR STRATEGY

Promotion

5.7. Release / Listening Parties

We use some of our events as release/listening parties. We invite media, radio, blogs, playlist curators, and influencers to these parties as VIPs. They'll receive goodie bags with merch (items pointing towards Molow's new release). They'll also have a chance to meet and interview Molow backstage.

OUR STRATEGY

Promotion

5.8. Advertising

With professionally created teaser clips, we promote Molow’s release, pre- and post-release on social media (paid ads). We also run advertorials on Mixmag and DJ Mag (pre-release). We’ll expect post-release coverage for our “pre-release efforts”.

OUR STRATEGY

Promotion

5.9. Public Relations (PR) – Media Coverage

Each major city has tabloid-style entertainment and culture magazines, and each one needs new angles and new content. We use our existing contacts and push for coverage in new media. One of the ways we do this is via our release/listening parties.

OUR STRATEGY

Promotion

5.10. Work with a Publicist or PR Agency and Radio Plugger.

Whilst we have a decent in-house PR team. We will look to utilise a PR agency if we see the track sticks (post-release).

The "track sticking" makes it easier for the label to increase its financial commitment, engaging a PR agency and radio plugger, hoping for more exposure and ensuring we squeeze the maximum out of the release.
