Overall Expectation:

To do well in this assessment, you must demonstrate a systematic approach to digital forensic analysis, supported by robust evidence and critical thinking.

You must have used tools like FTK, Autopsy, and Volatility effectively (not limited to), ensuring your analysis is thorough and well-documented.

Your report and demonstration should reflect a clear understanding of the case, with logical arguments, credible references, and professional presentation.

Adhering to the word count, proper formatting, and academic honesty (e.g., accurate referencing) is critical.

Below is specific feedback for each section and mark range to guide improvement.

- + Comprehensive understanding of digital forensics concepts, informed by methods and analysis.
- + Reasonably detailed understanding, with correct answers to most questions but lacking depth.
- + Critical evaluation of findings done.
- + Appropriate use of tools. Insightful Findings.
- + Well-structured report within word count, with fluent expression
- No use of credible literature.
- References are absent.
- You need to cite recent, credible sources (e.g., academic journals, forensic standards) to define the investigation's purpose and scope.
- You need to include a reference list with proper in-text citations
- More clarity in articulating how these concepts apply to the case, supported by more accurate examples could have added value to your work. (Eg: Integrity, File Systems etc)
- Used appropriate/ relevant tools. However, could have used advanced tool features/ other tools to provide comprehensive evidence for each question.
- More strong arguments could have added value to your work.
- Time management is the Key for Demonstration.

Kindly note that all marks are subject to 2nd verification and exam board verification as outlined by the University's Quality Assurance procedures.
