This is a tricky one folks!

On the pages that follow, you will see two referencing lists.

Reference list A is incorrectly written– there are many mistakes within it. Please do not delete List A.

Referencing List B is blank

Using the grab sheets and your referencing diagrams, you must re-type the following reference list correctly to create list B.

Once you have finished creating List B, save your document and check it against the answers provided.

Go on, give it a go and good-luck!
