

Dripping and dripping, what sound would it make when it's no longer empty? Pouring and pouring, the full glass prevents the true reflection. A single liquid inside to distort, splashing and splashing, running

to
lead
astray,
shin-
-ing
reflect,

The
true

image never appear ing, only when emptiness reigns, Gulp and gulp ing, Now the truth may be for ever lost, drained from the world. Behind one action, Behind one sound Dripping and dripping.
