

Dr Hart Report

Alsh Masood

Academic Skills for the digital era

Dr. Dana Harts disappearance starts with booklet Week 2 - Finding & Using Information, using the information from the booklet we can see Dr Hart was last seen leaving her lab on the 5th of January, 2025, around 9:30 PM. The last person to see Dr Hart was her lab assistant named Peter Singh, he addressed that Dr Hart was stressed about a meeting with some company executives. From more notes we can notice that her neighbour saw a SUV parked outside her house the night before she disappeared, (week 2).

Dr Hart also had a rival company that disagreed with Dr Harts over AI ethics. We can notice in the week 4 that there is a paper that may have been written by this rival company, expressing that her work is attracting not wanting, they also wrote to take a few steps back from her research or harm could have been taken in action, (week 4).

There were more clues implementing that Dr Hart could have been kidnapped by her rival company such as the SUV noticed by the neighbour, the threat messages sent to her and more clues found from her colleagues and students.

Dr Avery Cho (her colleague) became aware that she was under a lot of stress from conflicts with corporate sponsors.

Her student named Jamie Patel also felt like a big company wanted to silence her and her work.

In conclusion, the rival company decided to kidnap her for the work she was about to talk about with her boss

References

<https://moodle.uwtsd.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=12077§ion=8>

<https://moodle.uwtsd.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=12077§ion=6>

<https://moodle.uwtsd.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=12077§ion=9>