|            | Excellent module and presentation. Tutors extremely supportive and helpful in their guidance. Thoroughly enjoyed this module and learnt a great deal. Fantastic !                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|            | The way of measuring knowledge (critical essays) is way better than tests or quizzes, where you learn by memory and not by analysing. This makes you interiorise what you learnt in the seminars. I also liked the freedom the student has on his essays, the theme I picked, the uterus as sacred place, was not a place in the geography itself and even though they let me write about it. That's very good, to let the students select what they want to do, obviously inmersed in the main theme of the module. This allows the students to be very motivated in what they are doing, which makes the learning process even better and easier. Thanks, I enjoyed the module a lot! |
|            | I thought that some tutors were too severe in their correction, making a clear difference between two evaluations for the same paper                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |

|            | I have taken all the MA-CAA modules available to me on my AR course, and loved, loved, loved them all. The opportunities for interaction with other students and with the tutors made me feel far less isolated. Sacred Geography got me thinking and exploring ideas and concepts new to me and I thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity. My only regret is that I got a little carried away in my final essay and didn't quite address the foundation question properly. But it was great fun. Tutors are approachable and helpful, there's a wealth of material available, and it was, in short, lovely to study with the students and tutors. I would do it all over again, if I could. |
