

Academic And Employability Skills

Name: Julianah iwalaiye

Student ID: 2133902

Lecturer name: Tom Hopkins

module code: BMSW4001

Topic: Becoming a senior manager in support work

Introduction

In order for employees to win their competitors within the furious competition, employers need graduates who have a wide extend of abilities to bring to the work environment and require the workers with ability to satisfy numerous diverse parts.

So graduates coming into the health care sector have the abilities required by employers. With the aim of making myself become more competitive within the future health care advertise to begin with I ought to discover out what the employability aptitudes needed for graduates, then the individual SWOT investigation and make an activity arrange to make strides myself.

My skills

- Team worker- Ability to work well with other people from different backgrounds and disciplines to achieve a goal
- Communication Skill - ability to explain myself in a clear and concise way by writing and speaking
- Ability to learn and adapt - identify ways to learn from my mistakes for the benefits of myself and my employer
- Numeracy - Ability to use data and mathematics to support evidence or demonstrate a point
- Self management skills – ability to complete work alone or almost align without someone to tell me what to do.

SWOT analysis

This presentation points to survey my abilities and capacities contributing to my future proficient victory as a senior health and social care worker, recognise weaknesses, portray opportunities and access threats.

Strengths	Weaknesses
• Team work • Ability to learn and adapt • Not giving up • I am passionate • I am good at self management.	• I worry about making mistakes • I am not too good at using the computer • I need to improve on my time management skills. • I have too many goals • I am afraid of failure
Opportunities	Threats
• Putting what I learnt into practice • consulting with other people • gain more practical knowledge	• Numerous qualified people. • Work hard to enhance promotion.

References

IvyPanda. (2022) 'SWOT analysis: Health and Social Care Worker'. 23 May. Accessed 7 August 2022.