

SUPERVISION JOURNAL

Session 1:

During the first session Denis and I discussed my subject and its applications. We then discussed how it could be started. Dennis suggested a funnel structure to capture all elements of the assignment and keep it simple and objective.

He suggested:

An Introduction: where I develop the concepts of Meta Positions, why I am doing what I am doing.

Main body: With the literature; Theories, concepts, docs, reports, anxiety and Doulas, meta positions.

Applications: How can they be used together? This is what we found when trying it.

Conclusion:

Session 2:

During the second session we discussed the progression of the paper and I was given very insightful orientation regarding the final draft of the assignment.

I was advised to expand on the evaluation process of my training as to exemplify the method used.

I was also advised on the comments done on my transcription as it mentions my husband's name on it as it is his software subscription I am using.

I was also advised to exemplify who was the coach and who was the client on the transcript.

I was advised to check all my referencing as to be using Harvard referencing and citation.

We also discussed my findings and forms of expressing it in a cohesive way.

Session 3:

Further discussion on the structure and presentation of the document with some tweaks suggested to the various parts

Session 4:

Final review of the documents which resulted in final suggested tweaks that could be made in advance of submission.
