✓ It's Done

Some level 4 students were experiencing difficulties with the link to SPSS. The PM collated names and sent through to IT – the issues have now been resolved

The issue with the combination lock on the psychology lab door has now been fixed by the Operations team.

The confusion regarding the reflective logs for the L5 research methods have been addressed. The PM reminded students to follow the proforma, and ran through the marking system for the logs in a TEAMS meeting.

Written responses from the PM for L5s comment 'can timetabling of exams be more spread out and could there be fewer breaks in between lectures'; and L4s comment 'students would have liked to have had the Biological assignment earlier' have been placed on the Applied Psychology homepage on moodle.

The links for mitigating circumstances had not been set up on Turnitin - SJ has now actioned this.

☀ We're Working On It

It was noted that there were not enough plugs in one of the rooms and the computer in the room was outdated. Due to the lockdown – IT staff have not managed to assess this as yet. (update – 9.11.20 –with students unable to access these facilities until restrictions are lifted, there is no rush for this to be actioned).
