Comments: Q1. A thorough, well written & perceptive answer to the question set. You draw on the work of a range of authors & there is evidence of having critically engaged with the reading material in a balanced & well thought out manner. References needed throughout. Q2. Again, this is a well presented answer, but closer attention to a discussion of the population principle & the principle of equal entitlement (to the atmosphere's absorptive capacities) would greatly aid your assessment of the arguments at stake.
