Module Learning Outcomes (From module syllabus)

- evaluate the theoretical knowledge of entrepreneurship.
- apply the methods and techniques that they have learned, to review, consolidate, extend, and apply their knowledge and understanding, to initiate and carry out a Business Plan.

TASK DESCRIPTION

Component 1 – Written Report (50%) – Please follow the structure below :

Entrepreneurship is very much in the air today, with the present times seeming to be an age of entrepreneurship (Becker et al., 2022) with somehow the idea of entrepreneurship appearing to fire the imagination of everyone, especially the youth with a good education.

Inspired by the above statement since you have gained relevant knowledge and skills from your recently graduated programme of BA Business Management, you decided to further investigate of becoming an entrepreneur. Your innovative and creative idea can only be implemented with the help of a business expert whom you think may help you in constructing a business plan, hence due to lack of funds, you will seek funding from the dragon investors from the TV show Dragon's Den. The investors have heard about your new idea from the Consultant and want to know more.

Task: You are required to communicate your strategic business plan with inclusion of academic references explaining your business opportunity by detailing the report as below;

- 1. Business description / Market Opportunity
- 2. Industry Analysis - This section should present your market research assessment of the external and competitive environments using appropriate tools such as a competitors analysis. Highlight target market, segmentation, targeting and positioning strategy and competitor analysis.
- 3. Operation and Management team – a detailed operational activity, Include a brief background profile (educational, industry experience and achievements) of the top management team demonstrating their entrepreneurial capabilities and competences to justify their appointment.

4. Marketing Plan and strategy - Include overall marketing plan, positioning and differentiating propositions, marketing mix, market entry and sales process
5. Financial plan - This section of a business plan presents a firm's start-up costs. The first thing to include is a source and uses of funds statement, which is a document that lays out specifically how much money a firm need (if the intention of the business plan is to raise money), where the money will come from, and what the money will be used for. Highlight in your financial plan and briefly discuss the different types of financing available. You are also required to create a six-month cash budget forecast. Reflect your sales in how you will achieve financial sustainability.
6. Closing Summary • Summarise key parts of the business plan

GUIDANCE FOR STUDENTS IN THE COMPLETION OF TASKS

NOTE: The guidance offered below is linked to the six common assessment criteria overleaf.

1. Business Description / Market Opportunity

The business description is a short overview of the entire business plan; it provides a summary of the new venture's distinctive nature. This section should be written last to ensure it covers key areas of the business plan.

The business description section provides a general description of the company. It should include your mission statement, description of product or service. You must tell the reading audience what the intellectual property considerations in your idea is. It may be in its design or delivery. The ownership structure and Legal considerations should also be laid out.

2. Industry Analysis

A general description of the business's industry in terms of size, growth rate, and sales projections should be provided with a VRIO analysis. More specific analysis must be conducted using Porters five forces model to understand dynamics of the industry you would be going into; this analysis would help you decide whether to enter a particular industry and whether an attractive position can be carved out in that industry.

Competitors rivalry should include name of competitors and how do they differ from your products and services

3. Operations and Management Team Plan

- Operation and Management team – What is your business process like – detail the process? E.g., if it is a bakery – what are all the processes involved? Where will you get your supplies from? What supplies and equipment will you need? How will you transport them to your production site? Where will you make the cakes and scones? How will you get them to your customers? Will anyone else be involved in this process?
- How would you generate revenue for your business (Upselling, Upgrading, Economies of Scale) ? How would you prevent loss of revenue?
- a detailed operational activity such as, Include a brief background profile (educational, industry experience and achievements) of the top management team demonstrating their entrepreneurial capabilities and competences to justify their appointment.

4. Marketing Plan and Strategy

The marketing plan focuses on how the business will market and sell its product or service. It deals with the nuts and bolts of marketing in terms of price, promotion, distribution, and sales strategies. A company's marketing plan can be described by articulating its marketing strategy, positioning, and points of differentiation, and then considering how these overall aspects of the plan will be supported by product, price, promotional mix, and distribution strategy. The Four P's must be used to describe your marketing strategy.

5. Financial Plan

The final section of a business plan presents a firm's start-up costs. The first thing to include is a source and uses of funds statement, which is a document that lays out specifically how much money a firm need (if the intention of the business plan is to raise money), where the money will come from, and what the money will be used for. Highlight in your financial plan and briefly discuss the different types of financing available. You are also required to create a six-month cash budget forecast. Reflect your sales in how you will achieve financial sustainability.

6. Closing Summary • Summarise key parts of the report , draw conclusions from your business plan that are appealing to investors, make it interesting and demonstrate that the proposed business concept will make money.

Essential Resources:

- Resources listed on the lecture schedule and on Moodle
- The student handbook.

GENERIC ASSESSMENT CRITERIA

Level 5

In accordance with the Framework for Higher Education Qualifications, at the end of Level 5 students will be expected to have developed sound knowledge and critical understanding of the well-established concepts and principles in their field of study, and of the way in which those principles have developed. They will have learned to apply those concepts and principles more widely outside the context in which they were first studied, including, where appropriate, the application of those principles in an employment context. They will have knowledge of the main methods of enquiry in the subject area, and ability to evaluate critically different approaches to problem solving. They will possess an understanding of the limits of their knowledge, and how this influences their analyses and interpretations. They will be able to use a range of established techniques to initiate and undertake critical analysis of information, and to propose solutions to problems arising from that analysis. They will be able to effectively communicate information, arguments and analysis in a variety of forms to specialist and non-specialist audiences, and deploy key techniques of the discipline effectively. They will be able to undertake further training, develop existing skills and acquire new competences that will enable them to assume significant responsibility within organisations. They will have the qualities and transferable skills necessary for employment requiring the exercise of personal responsibility and decision-making.
