Margam Park

DISCOVER

Margam Park is the area that I have chosen to focus my topic on as it is a place that I am interested in and which is meaningful to me.

I would often visit Margam Park in my childhood where me and my brother would enjoy exploring the area and wildlife.

I still visit the park regularly whether we are on day trips..

To take trips on the train.

To explore the wildlife in the pond.

To run around the maze.

To discover the lands within the area.

Or to walk my sisters dogs..

EXPLORE

Visiting the park during different hours shows the area in a whole new light..

During the night, wildlife become more alive

And during the day, it is often busy with families and walkers.

It is where I am getting married!

CONSERVE

There has been an increase in litter over the years. Litter is not only harmful to the natural environment, but to humans and wildlife too.

Whilst having our picnic in the park, we discussed litter amongst ourselves and the importance of making sure we either use bins provided or take our litter home with us.

What did we do?..

That day, we collected all the litter around us before going home to discuss littering and how harmful it is.

After learning about how harmful litter is for the wildlife, the children decided they wanted to make bird seed feeders out of recycled materials for the birds at the area.

SHARE

The children have proudly enjoyed discussing our littering project with their school teachers and friends.

We have created posters and leaflets to hang up around the area, and hand out to visitors to encourage them not to litter and make them aware of the harmlessness of littering.
