Evolving your Creative Craft

In the final design of my project i have decided to focus on the computer gun that shoots either dvd discs, vhs's and floppy discs, for a more goofy aesthetic in a more cartoony world

Here is the orthographic view of my final design

GENERAL COMMENTS

Marks Breakdown

1. Engagement With Literature Skills

(not assessed in this assignment)

2. Knowledge & Understanding Skills (31%)

TASK E (Orthographic projections): The orthographics are present but do not adhere to any scale – the images appear to be drawn freehand. No technical drawing techniques have been applied to the work.

3. Cognitive & Intellectual Skills (0%)

TASK D (Iterative design): No iterative designs have been submitted in the assessment. Please address the brief to see what deliverables are needed from you to pass the assignment.

4. Practical Application Skills (18%)

TASK F (Final Design): The final design is overly simplistic and does not visually represent the idea proposed. For instance, wiring in the device isn't separated or differentiated from the main body – this work falls far below what is expected at second year.

5. Transferrable Skills for Life and Professional Practice

(not assessed in this assignment)
