(Justice, 2025a, np., Justice, 2025b, p. 5).

JUSTICE'S IDEOLOGICAL MOTIVATIONS

“We are the only NGO that works to improve access to justice across the entire UK justice system. We use our research and reports to influence policymakers, judges, civil servants, lawyers, and other decision-makers. We do not campaign or lobby.”

(Justice, 2025f, np)

JUSTICE AS AN ACTIVIST UK ORGANISATION

“We have a long and rich history of reforming the justice system in the United Kingdom. Our pioneering work over more than sixty years has shaped the infrastructure of the system, making it more accessible, accountable and fair.”

(Justice, 2025g, np).

“The rule of law is not an idealistic or abstract concept without any real consequences for the general public. It is the notion that all are equal before the law – both individuals and the State”

(Justice, 2025c, np).

JUSTICE'S AS A CHARITY: FUNDING AND ACTIONS

Justice is funded through donation and charitable contributions, many of which are through gifts via an executed or living will.

(Justice, 2025d, np)

JUSTICE'S POLITICAL MOTIVATIONS

“We build consensus that access to justice, fairness and efficiency in the justice system are the concern of all lawyers and lawmakers, rather than party-political issues.”

(Justice, 2025h, np)

“A registered charity, we are an all-party membership organisation, drawn primarily from the legal profession with a common commitment to the rule of law and the fair administration of justice.”

(Justice, 2025e, np)

THE SUCCESS OF JUSTICE AND THE RISE OF THE CPS

“Features of the legal infrastructure that we take for granted – the Ombudsman, the Crown Prosecution Service, the Criminal Cases Review Commission, the Criminal Injuries Compensation Scheme and more – were all proposed by JUSTICE. Our credibility and influence with decision-makers helped them come to pass.”

(Justice, 2025L, np)

“The origins of the Crown Prosecution Service (the CPS) are to be found in the Report of the Royal Commission on Criminal Procedure, chaired by Sir Cyril Philips, which was published in 1981.”

(Attorney Generals Office, 1998, p.3)

JUSTICE AND THE INSTALLATION OF THE OMBUDSMAN

The first ombudsman scheme in these islands, the UK Parliamentary Commissioner for Administration (Parliamentary Ombudsman), was created in 1967.

(Ombudsman Association, 2025, np)

The Ombudsman Association services are comprised of several symbiotic agencies ranging from the original Parliamentary Ombudsman, through to Financial, Insurance and Public Service Ombudsman providers.

(Pidy, 2025, p3., Financial Ombudsman Service, 2025, np., Cabinet Office, 2015, p3-4)

EXAMPLES OF CROSS-PARTY CO-OPERATION UK AND ABROAD

“That the recently negotiated EU–UK Trade and Cooperation Agreement contains no provisions in this area is thus puzzling for followers of European security, who predicted prompt agreement” (Martill and Sus, 2022, p 404)

“... we contend that cuts to education budgets and perverse school inspection framework criteria, counterproductive funding structures and cuts to youth services, and the increased use of discriminatory policing practices such as stop and search, all provide examples of antisocial shifts in social policy.” (Irwin-Rogers, et al. 2020, p4)

THE APPLICABLE THEORY FOR JUSTICE

Microsystem- Complex relations between the developing person and the environment, family, friends, etc.

Mesosystem- Interrelations among major settings containing the developing person at points in their life.

Exosystems- an extension of Meso, that brings in the social structures, informal and formal, that do not directly contain the person in question, such as media, councils and governments etc.

Macrosystems- cultural or subcultural impacts (social) impacts.

Chronosystems- ageing and how a person grows.
