SKILLS

TIME MANAGEMENT

- This is an essential skill that enables nurse to cover their responsibilities in the workplace from fulfilling doctors' demands to addressing patients' concerns. There is a need for proper time management ability because the health center is surrounded by several distractions and

ACTIVE LISTENING

- Active listening is an important skill in nursing. Active listening is the ability to listen attentively and understand the information being passed on by the speaker in order to improve productivity as well as the ability to influence, persuade and negotiate (Admin, 2022).

TEAMWORK

- Teamwork is the cooperative activities of two or more professionals with the sole aim of providing care for patients (Oandasan, Baker, Barker and Bosco, 2006)
- Members are usually mutually dependent, work together for patient-centered care, share information and profit from working collaboratively for effective care.

MULTITASKING

- In any hospital, it is important that healthcare professionals especially nurses are able to manage and carry out different tasks at the same time because they could be assigned to different patients and are expected to provide the necessary care that would nurse them to better health. Multitask enables the nurse to apply their skills of time management, communication and active listening in patient care.
