Thinking about a purposeful global experience?

With Think Pacific you will live, work and learn with incredible people, in a choice of two breathtaking locations; Fiji Islands or Bali, Indonesia.

Since 2009 we've guided thousands of students on extraordinary and award-winning global internships and volunteer projects.

Join a team of like minded students, immerse yourself into a new culture and gain international work experience and unique global perspectives. Whether you are keen to work on global business, industry and enterprise projects, or collaborate at community level in areas of sport, mental health and youth empowerment, you'll support local initiatives through our inspiring partnerships.

Think Pacific is guided by a deep set of values, a dedication to setting high standards and long-term investment in the destinations we work.

If you're thinking about stepping out of your comfort zone, If you're excited to work internationally in a team, and if you have a desire to throw yourself into a real global adventure, Think Pacific could be just for you.

We look forward to speaking to you soon and guiding you on a unique journey.
