"Dry bones can harm no one?"

"After the frosty silence in the gardens"

“But at my back from time to time I hear the sound of horns and motors”

“Over the tumbled graves, about the chapel there is the empty chapel, only the wind’s home”

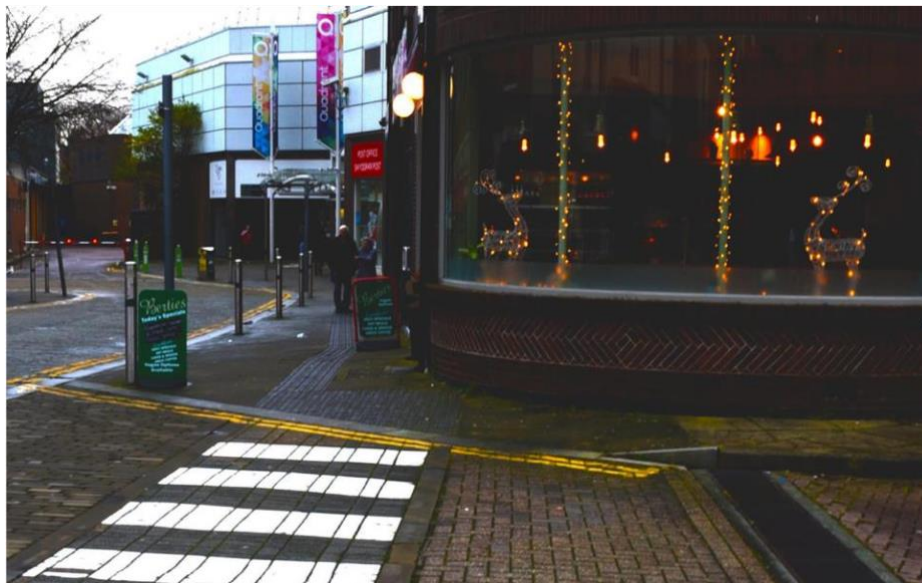

"Memory and desire, stirring, Dull roots with spring rain"

"Abused Sibling, Cute and Loved Sibling, and Invisible Middle Sibling"

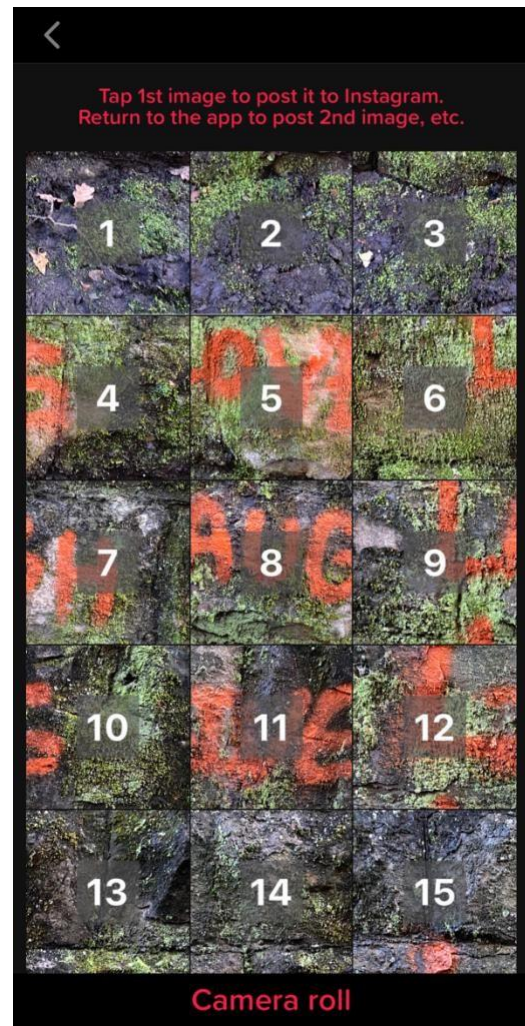

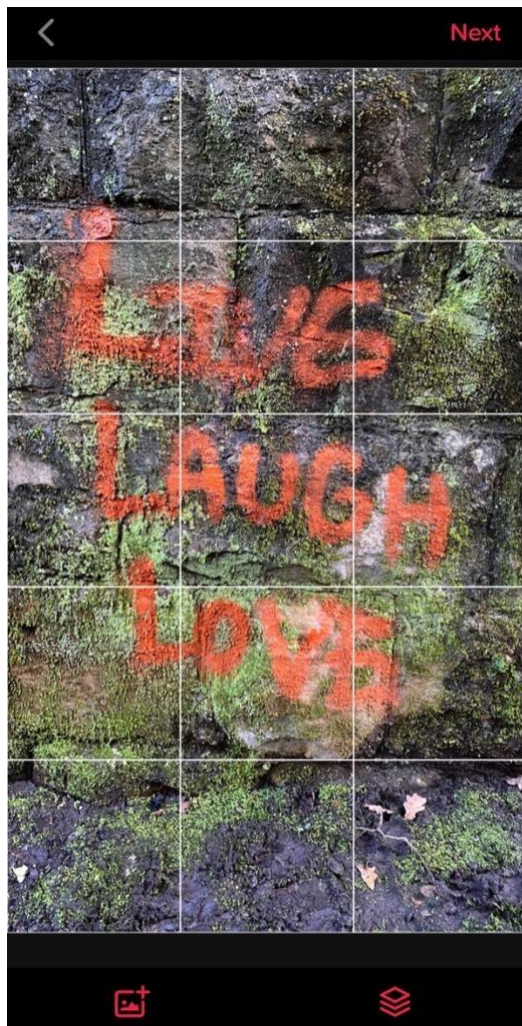

- Who would of thought you could buy stuff like this on Amazon? (smiling, holding and looking at box of fvm) Response "Amazon"
- What manga are you watching?
"It's ANIME!" (cross pillow at face)
- What do you want for lunch? "food"
- How's life? "bahhh!"
- What's up? looks up replies "the sky"
- I wish common sense was more common.
- I'm surrounded by idiots.
- If you don't want a sarcastic answer, don't ask a stupid question
- Sitting at table "can you pass the carrots?"
thinking to myself ~~do~~ ^{why} pass the carrots or the carrots ~~to the~~ ^{into the} container they're in
- Phone call at midnight "Sorry, were you sleeping?" "No, I was day dreaming"
- In elevator someone asked "is the elevator going up?"
"No, it's going side ways"
- At bus stop "Are you waiting for the bus?" "No, I'm waiting for my flight"
- Shots and stabs my back my bones but words will never hurt me" Throws dictionary at person "See? words do hurt!"
- Wrapped in blanket with hot and hot chocolate someone asks "are you cold?" "No, I'm training to live in antarctica"
- "Was that lightning?" "No, they're taking pictures for google earth"
- "Can I have a bite of your sandwich?"
"yes" takes biggest bite possible
- "Can I have a piece of cheese?" cuts huge piece for self and tiny piece for sibling

"Well, if you ask a stupid question, you're gonna get a sarcastic answer"

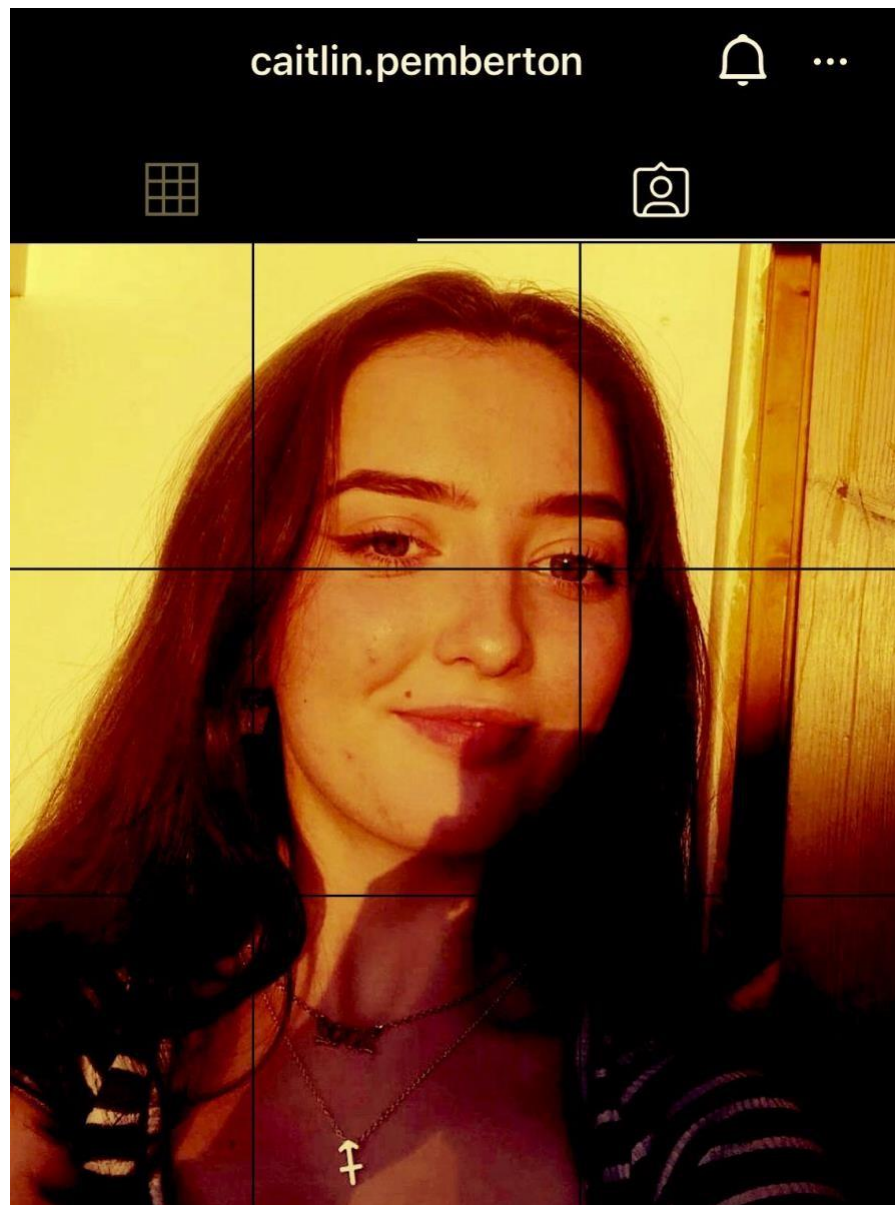

This is the poster I designed to post via Instagram, getting people involved to take selfies, and use the app, including the hashtag. I wanted to encourage those by stating what will make them feel reassured, being yourself will give them the boost they will need to take a portrait.

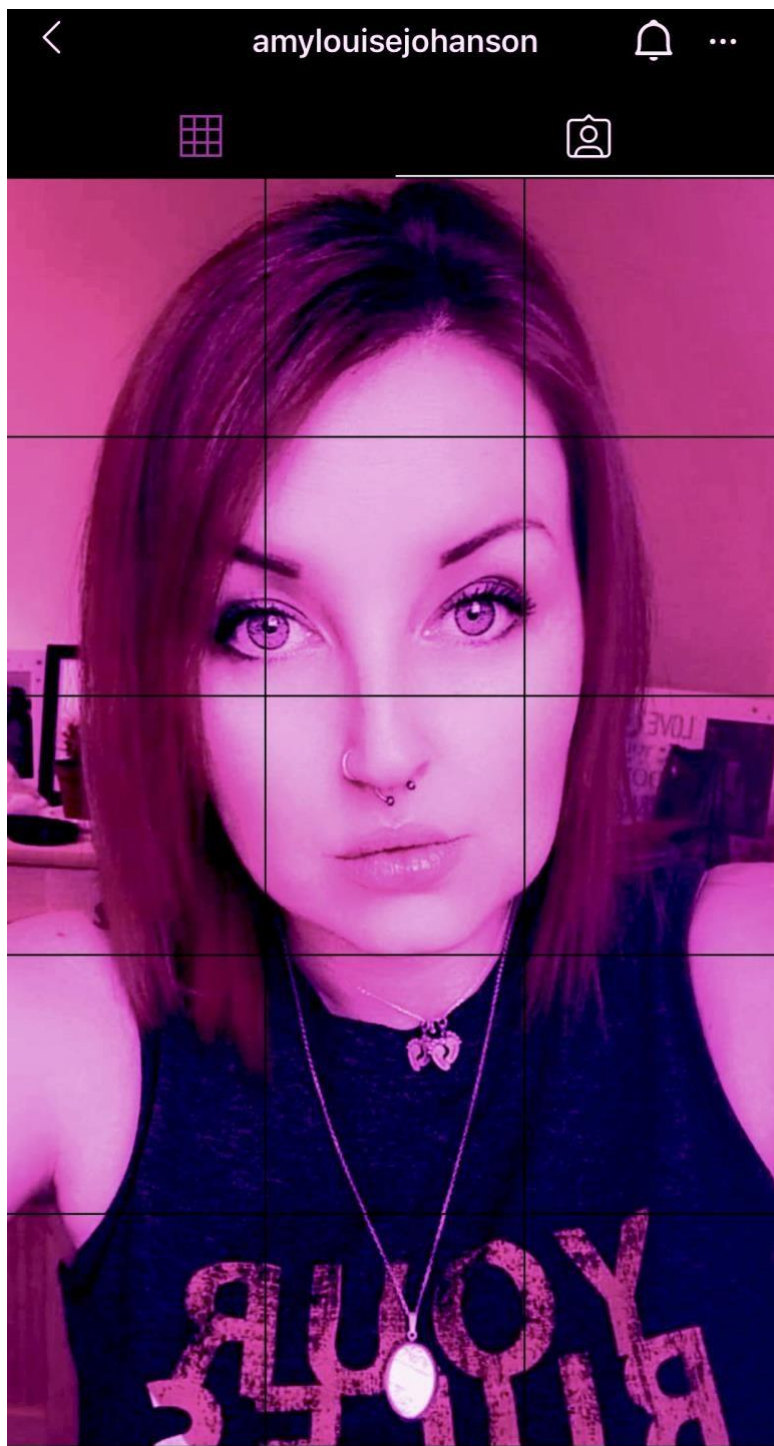

I have included some screenshots to show the process of the app I have discovered. Gird Post, an app which takes an ordinary photograph and crops it into equal pieces. The one by one you post each equal piece onto Instagram. Finally, when all pieces have been posted, you go back onto Instagram, and the full image will be revealed on your profile along with the hashtags that represent the image itself.

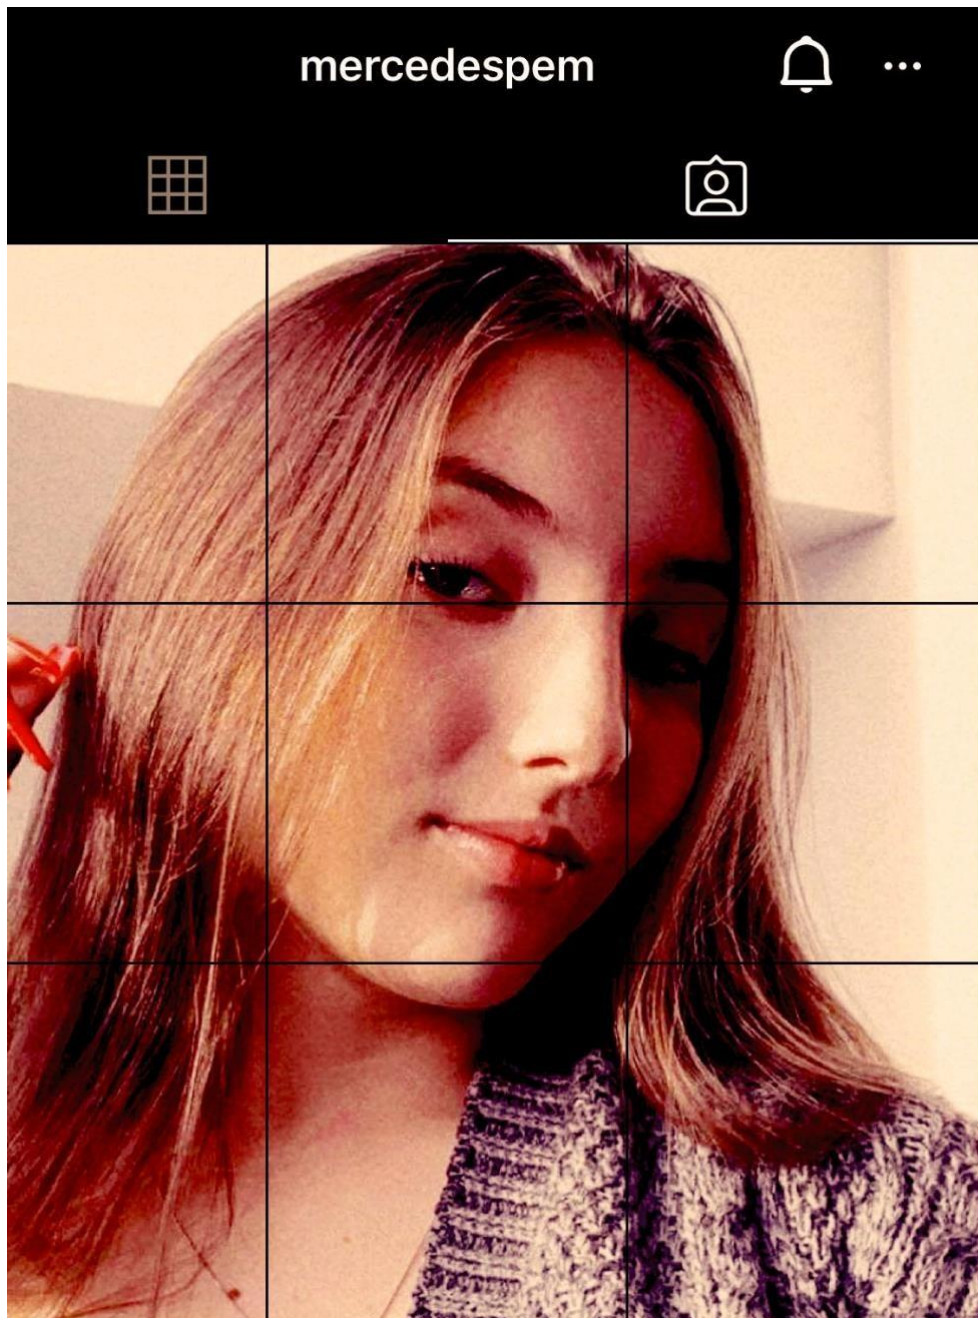

When I received each portrait via Instagram, I then asked them what their favorite colours were. They all came back with Pink, Yellow, Orange, Blue, and Red, which reminds me about Colour Psychology. Colour and how it relates to personality and behavior.
