11. Photograph of Memory – The wind lifts her dress as she clings to the past.

12. The Final Step – Facing the unknown, she takes a step forward.

Narrative Structure: A Visual Exploration of Existentialism and Pain in Paris

This series of narrative images is inspired by Sartre's existentialist themes of freedom and fear, memory and solitude, escape and belonging. It portrays a young woman in a black dress wandering through various corners of Paris, symbolizing her internal conflict and existential struggle.

A surreal Parisian journey through existential solitude, where freedom and fear intertwine, reality and memory blur, and escape battles belonging—an exploration of freedom, identity, and existential struggle.
