No

If not, which guidelines were not followed?

N/A

Describe how the ethical guidelines were followed?

Informed consent was at the start of the study. This was to ensure me that I am giving approval to the researcher. Confidentiality was also provided as the consent form was discussed with me, that all my results will be anonymous. The debrief sheet also showed, withdrawal from the overall study and removal of results if necessary.

How were you fully debriefed after completing the study? Were you provided with details of the researcher (e.g. email address) and given the opportunity to discuss with them after completion?

I was given information after the completion of the study, however there was no researchers to ask any question there and then. Also, the information provided afterwards gave me contact information of the researcher if I did have any questions to ask.

Are there any areas of improvement for this research study? (think about the materials used in the study and how the researcher carried out the study)

The study, I felt wasn't as reliable as the other lab studies. This was because I was in my home environment and may have rushed my answers.

Briefly describe/outline the study you participated in (What were you asked to do? Did you understand the purpose before/during the study?)

Before the study, I was instructed by the research to watch a video of a crime, then five minutes to do a jigsaw, watch a police interview, and fill out a questionnaire on the crime committed.

Briefly describe your experience of taking part in this research study (positive aspects/issues that may have impacted your participation)

The study helped me to increase my observational and memory skills on crimes. I was able to remember the crime that was committed. It made me slightly worried as I thought some of my answers may be manipulated due to my judgement.

How were you fully debriefed after completing the study?
Were you given opportunity to discuss with the researcher
after completion?

I was provided with a debrief sheet instructing that I was able to ask any questions if needed and involved all the information on what the study was about and how my results will be used.

Are there any areas of improvement for this research study? (think about the materials used in the study and how the researcher carried out the study)

The study I felt the researcher was clear in what I had to do and was there to provide support if needed. Also, I found the study to be very interesting as I have never been in this situation in real life

Briefly describe/outline the study you participated in (What were you asked to do? Did you understand the purpose before/during the study?)

Before I began the study, I was instructed to fill out the online questionnaire on my thoughts and feelings about my skin condition, specifically eczema. Does it affect my self-esteem and confidence within society?

Briefly describe your experience of taking part in an online research study and how this experience differed from a lab based study (positive aspects/issues that may have impacted your participation)

The study helped me to realise how I feel about my skin condition and why it may affect my confidence and relationship with others. Eczema may remove me from society and personal relationships due to feeling 'ugly'.

Briefly describe/outline the study you participated in (What were you asked to do? Did you understand the purpose before/during the study?)

Before the study, I was asked to state my age, gender, and race. Then I had to read two reports of violent incidences regarding a suspect and victim – the same incident but uses black suspect in one, and white suspect in the other. I then had to rate the dangers of the incident and when I would intervene.

Briefly describe your experience of taking part in this research study (positive aspects/issues that may have impacted your participation)

The study helped to understand racial aspects and how I would intervene in the situation and why. Also, I was able to see myself in the situation and interpret how I would normally react.

I felt I wasn't fully instructed on what the study was for and why the racial circumstance was crime related. Overall, it was an interesting study to take part in and help me to understand my point of view on racism.

Briefly describe/outline the study you participated in (What were you asked to do? Did you understand the purpose before/during the study?)

Before the study, I was instructed that I would be completing a computerised word-picture association task (black and white faces; pleasant and unpleasant words – categorise these using 'A' and 'L' keys). Two questionnaires were also provided in relation to Islamic and racial views, I would answer these in regard to my own opinion.

Briefly describe your experience of taking part in this research study (positive aspects/issues that may have impacted your participation)

The study helped me to show my opinion on Islamic and racial aspects within society, as well as improving my reaction and concentration skills when completing the computerised association task.

Briefly describe/outline the study you participated in (What were you asked to do? Did you understand the purpose before/during the study?)

Before the study, I was instructed that I would be completing a balloon task online to relate to gambling addiction. Two short questionnaires were then given to me about my personality and my opinion on gambling behaviour.

Briefly describe your experience of taking part in this research study (positive aspects/issues that may have impacted your participation)

The study helped me to understand gambling and how it can influence one's behaviour and personality (positive or negative). And it helped me to improve my concentration on when to pop the bubble for coins (fake money).
