Respondent	Response
	An interesting module that considered the celestial realm as a system to model the symbolism of religions. The module was slightly biased toward the validity of astrology as a relevant religion today. More of a focus on systems of power should be available to students of this module instead of being restricted to materials that seem to be accessible only to established academics.
	I live in a place where some of the topics covered in this course still lead to violence, bloodshed, and hatred. It was hard to just study and stay neutral, which probably effected my learning.
	I loved this module, broadened my understanding of key concepts, and really helped my solidify areas of research I want to explore in my dissertation. Module team are so knowable and are inspiring. Thank you for such a fab experience.
	Support materials, such as links to the website, were not updated. (some had page error)

Respondent	Response
	I found the first assessment's criteria confusing, especially compared to what was mentioned about the assessment in lectures. This was probably my own fault for not being able to attend as many lectures as I had hoped. I did not go out of my way to clarify the points I found confusing, which again was my mistake. The second assessment's criteria was much more clear.
Total responses to question	5/6
